

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 2.

Whereas by act of congress approved June 25, 1892, the time within which persons actually residing upon lands forfeited by the act of congress, approved September 29, 1890, could make final proof, was extended to September 29, 1893, but as to persons who were not actually residing upon lands so forfeited, the time for making such proof was limited to February 3, 1893; and whereas the greater portion of the lands in Oregon so forfeited are not actually resided upon, but were settled by persons now entitled to purchase the same, who are occupying adjoining tracts, on which their principal improvements were made, and who are therefore, except in a technical sense, actual settlers upon such forfeited lands; and whereas by reason of an almost entire failure of crops from an unusual drouth in 1892 over the territory in Oregon covered by such forfeiture, the persons so entitled to purchase are entirely without means so to do, and must therefore lose their rights and labor unless a further extension is granted; and whereas if the time be extended until January 1, 1894, these persons will have the proceeds of the coming year's crop out of which to meet such payment, and can then undoubtedly do so; and whereas we believe that under the circumstances these persons should be treated as actually residing upon such lands and have the same rights as those given to actual residents; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, the House concurring, That our senators and representatives in congress be requested and urged to make a special effort to secure the passage of an act by congress extending the time to make final proof in all cases under the said forfeiture act to January 1, 1894.

Be it further resolved, That the secretary of state be instructed to telegraph a copy of this resolution to our senators and representatives in congress.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 9.

Whereas the Siuslaw river at its mouth now flows through the south instead of the north channel on its way to the ocean, and the water on the bar is of greater depth, according to government survey, than is recorded in the last annual engineer's report; and whereas the congress of 1890 appropriated $50,000 to purchase a plant for building the jetties at the mouth of the Siuslaw river, and the congress of 1892 further appropriated $20,000 to commence work on the jetties; and whereas the resources of the county through which the Siuslaw river flows abound in the finest forests of fir and cedar, the amount of which is unlimited and the area greater than three eastern states, together with large tracts of fruit and farming lands, all of which must of a necessity pass over the Siuslaw bar to reach the markets of the outer world; and whereas in consequence thereof the construction of a railroad has been commenced at Florence, to be built through Eastern Oregon and connect with continental lines, thus forming an outlet to other markets for the products of a portion of the Inland Empire of Oregon, it becomes a matter of importance that congress make more liberal appropriations in the future than it has in the past for improvements at the mouth of the Siuslaw; and to this end be it

Resolved, the House concurring, That Captain Thomas W. Symons, United States engineer, in charge of government work at the mouth of the Siuslaw river, is earnestly requested to set forth these facts in his next annual report to the government regarding the Siuslaw harbor, upon which report appropriations are based. Be it further

Resolved, That the chief clerk of the senate be instructed to forward a copy of these resolutions to Captain Thomas W. Symons, of Portland, Oregon, and one to each of Oregon's United States senators and members of congress.

HOUSE JOINT MEMORIAL NO. 3.

Resolved by the House, the Senate concurring, Whereas the congress of the United States annually appropriate large sums of money for the improvement of the rivers and harbors of the several states of the United States and expends the same mostly on the seaboards in the several states in such a manner that but little if any benefit accrues to the inland commerce of the several states; and whereas there is a vast inland empire in Oregon not touched by the seaboards; and whereas the public post roads of this state are in urgent need of extensive and substantial repairs which the people are unable to meet without oppressive taxation; and whereas there are vast tracts of land not reached by any public post road which are so environed by mountains as to preclude the speedy settlement thereof for want of proper post roads leading thereto; therefore

Resolved, That the people of the state of Oregon demand of their representatives in congress that they use every honorable means in their power to secure an annual appropriation of five hundred thousand dollars for the state of Oregon to be expended under the direction of the war department on the public post roads of this state and in the establishment of other necessary public post roads therein.

This is an appropriation of money raised by a general tax for a local purpose, and for a purpose entirely foreign to that for which the taxing power was conferred upon the government by the people. I veto the bill.

Resolved by the Senate, the House concurring, That a joint committee, consisting of two members of the senate and three from the house, be appointed to investigate the Torrens system of transfer of real property, and to report to this legislature, by bill or otherwise, as to the desirability of its adoption by this state.

On motion of Mr. Woodard, senate concurrent resolution No. 12 was adopted.

The president presented the following recommendations from the state board of equalization, which were read:—

RECOMMENDATIONS.

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of Oregon: The state board of equalization, at its regular 1892 session, adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas the five-mill tax now required to be levied by the several county courts of the state of Oregon for school purposes offers an inducement to the assessors of Oregon to assess property for less than its actual cash value; therefore be it

Resolved, That in the opinion of the board said tax ought to be abolished; that instead of said law, an act should be passed by the legislature of Oregon requiring the county court of each county in the state of Oregon to ascertain from the last school census of said county the number of school children in said county between the ages of four and twenty years, and allow the sum of $—— for each school child thus obtained; and that said court, at the same time that it makes a levy for taxes for county purposes, levy a tax on all of the taxable property in said county sufficient in amount to equal the amount of money ascertained as aforesaid by allowing $—— for each school child in said county between the ages of four and twenty years; that said tax so raised be collected in the same manner that other taxes of said county are collected; that the county school superintendent of each county shall distribute the amount of money so raised as follows: That he pay to each district in said county the sum of $50; that he distribute the residue of said money among the several school districts in his county pro rata, according to the number of school children in said districts between the ages of four and twenty years.

Whereas the time allowed by the present law to the state board of equalization is too short to enable said board to perform satisfactorily the duties imposed upon it by the present law, it is therefore

Resolved, That a law should be passed by the legislature of Oregon allowing said board sixty days in which to do its work; that thirty days of said time be used by the board in securing information in reference to the value of property in the several counties of the state of Oregon, and that the members of said board be allowed compensation for the amount of money actually expended by them for transportation while so securing said information; that the session of said board commence on the first Monday in November of each year.

Whereas the present law allowing the deduction of indebtedness and the exemption of the same from the taxable property of each taxpayer furnishes an opportunity for a large class of property owners of the state to escape their just portion of the burdens of taxation, it is therefore

Resolved, That in the opinion of the board, said law should be so amended as not to allow any exemptions from taxation on account of indebtedness.

Whereas the assessment of mortgages under the present law has a tendency to prevent a proper equalization of the assessment of the property in the state of Oregon, it is therefore

Resolved, That in the opinion of the board said law should be repealed.

It is further resolved, That in the opinion of the board, each taxpayer should be assessed on the amount of the property he actually owned on the first day of March of each year, at 12 o'clock at noon of said day.

It is further resolved, That in the opinion of the board, the present law should be so amended as to divide real property into as many ~~classes~~ as the nature of said property requires, in order to properly equalize the ~~assessment~~ of real property.

J. P. O. LOWNSDALE,
President.

Mr. President:

HOUSE JOINT MEMORIAL NO. 8.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress Assembled: Your memorialist, the legislative assembly of the state of Oregon, in this year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, beg leave to respectfully submit, for the timely consideration of your honorable body, the following memorial, accompanied by our earnest petition that the same be accepted and acted upon in the spirit of patriotism and national self-preservation that prompts its presentation.

Whereas the unrestricted immigration of laboring classes, though long a desirable factor in our national development, has in the last thirty years achieved proportions so gigantic as to become our gravest menace; and whereas our once great need of population, rapidly augmented by imported laborers, has been so fully met that the question as to "where we shall find people for our unsettled lands," has given place to the much more startling query as to "where we shall find lands and labor for our homeless people;" and whereas the experience of many states of the union proves that the indiscriminate naturalization of the foreign-born population of monarchical governments is rapidly undermining our republican institutions, and will ultimately overthrow them if allowed to go on unchecked; and whereas the far-seeing founders of this government conferred upon congress the power "to establish" an uniform system of naturalization (see article I., paragraph 8, section 15 of the constitution of the United States); and whereas article XXX., from sections 2165 to 2174 inclusive, of the revised statutes of the United States, also later laws regulating the naturalization of aliens, clearly sustain the power of congress in dealing with this difficult problem; and whereas such laws were well adapted to the purposes for which they were intended at the time of their enactment, yet the conditions of our country have so far changed that they have ceased to apply to our present situation, and not only no longer operate as a protection to our interests, but have become the alarming source of revolution and despotism upon our own soil; and whereas the threatened scourge of Asiatic cholera, now menacing our people, can be held in check only through necessary restriction of such immigration; therefore,

Resolved, That the legislative assembly of the state of Oregon respectfully petition your honorable body to take immediate action for such prohibition and provide fully for its enforcement before the close of the present session of congress, and that the secretary of state be requested to immediately forward copies of this memorial to each of our senators and representatives in congress.

On motion of Mr. Hirsch, house joint memorial No. 8 was referred to the committee on federal relations.

Whereas the burdens of government have become oppressive, the laws cumbersome, of doubtful meaning and partial administration, the simplicity of our representative government—the ideal of our patriot fathers that their government should be of the people, by the people, and for the people—departed from; while corruption, lawlessness, contempt of authority are wide-spread and rampant; therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate, the House concurring, That the initiative and the obligatory referendum should be made a part of the law of Oregon, through which, by the initiative, a number of legal voters equal to two per cent of the votes cast at the last preceding general election petitioning the legislature in favor of any proposed law, or the repeal of any law, the same being embodied in the petition, shall require the legislature to submit said proposed measure to a vote of the people for adoption or rejection, and by the obligatory referendum all acts, appropriations, and bills originating in the legislature are required to be submitted to a vote of the people for approval or rejection, the same principle also to be applied to the county courts and law-making bodies of all municipalities in Oregon.

Whereas it is desirable that the legislature should be advised as to the opinion of a majority of the voters on these questions; therefore, be it

Resolved further, That the governor of the state of Oregon be and he is hereby authorized and directed to cause to be submitted to the legal voters of the state of Oregon, at the next general election, the aforementioned questions, and shall cause to be printed on all the ballots printed for the next general election, the following words:

Initiative-----	} Yes. No.
Obligatory referendum----- } Yes. No.

And the voters in each case may cancel the word "No," if in favor, and "Yes," if opposed, to the questions, voting in the same manner on each question.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
January 31, 1893. }

The senate was called to order at 2 o'clock P. M. by the president.

The roll was called, and all the senators were present except Mr. Hirsch.

The president announced that he had appointed under senate concurrent resolution No. 16, to investigate the books and accounts of the state board of agriculture, Messrs. Looney and McAlister.

The president presented the following communication from United States Senator Dolph:—

COMMUNICATION.

UNITED STATES SENATE,
WASHINGTON, D. C.,
January 25, 1893. }

Hon. C. W. Fulton, President of the Senate, Salem, Oregon—

MY DEAR SIR: I send you herewith a map of Oregon showing the boundaries of the proposed Cascade reservation. My attention was called to the matter by the secretary of the interior the day it was transmitted to the president for proclamation. I was not aware that there was a proposition pending for so large a reservation. Upon learning that Mr. Hermann had been in communication with the department about it, I could only say to the secretary that I knew of no objection to it. The day following I received a telegram from parties in Oregon saying that the creation of a reservation with the proposed boundries would create dissatisfaction, and asking to have the matter held up. I accordingly telegraphed to the president, asking that action in the matter should be postponed, and the secretary has withdrawn the papers from the president. My own impression is that the boundaries do not embrace land suitable for agriculture, and that it would be a good thing for the state to have the reservation made. Such a reservation would preserve the forests and protect the mountains from being denuded, and would probably tend to preserve game within its limits; but I do not feel at liberty to recommend the reservation at present.

I observe by the papers that some action by the Oregon legislature has been proposed. Should the legislature approve of the reservation, I shall be very glad to recommend it; should they disapprove of it, I shall be glad to endeavor to have the boundaries changed to meet their approval. I send the map to you in order that the members of the legislature may be informed as to the proposed boundaries, so as to take action, if action is to be taken, upon the matter intelligently.

Yours sincerely,

J. N. DOLPH.

To the Honorable the Senate of the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon: I have the honor herewith to return to the senate, senate bill No. 219 of the sixteenth biennial session of the legislative assembly, which was filed in this office, February 21, 1891, together with the objections of the governor thereto.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully,

Secretary of State.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

STATE OF OREGON, EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 21, 1891. }

To the Honorable the Senate of the State of Oregon: I herewith return senate bill No. 219 with my dissent. This is a bill granting to the Riddle Improvement Company a right of way and to authorize the construction and maintenance of a canal for irrigating, manufacturing, mining, and other purposes in Douglas county, Oregon. This bill confers upon a private corporation the right to divert water for private purposes without imposing upon it the restrictions necessary to protect the right of others. Inasmuch as this legislature has passed a general law (senate bill No. 4), giving to private corporations the right to divert water for irrigating purposes, while at the same time it places upon them wholesome restrictions in regard to the rights of others, this company can avail itself of its provisions and prosecute its work under a general instead of a special law.

SYLVESTER PENNOYER,
Governor.

The question being, "Shall the bill pass?" notwithstanding the objections and veto of the governor, the roll was called and the vote was:

Those voting aye were—None.

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 1, 1893. }

Mr. President:

Your committee on railways and transportation, to whom was referred senate bill No. 40, beg leave to report that we have had the same under consideration, and respectfully report it back to the senate with the recommendation that it do pass.

G. E. HAYES,
Chairman.

On motion of Mr. Hayes, senate bill No. 40 was ordered engrossed and to third reading tomorrow.

Mr. Bancroft, chairman of the joint committee appointed under senate concurrent resolution No. 10, to investigate and report on the jute plant in use in the Walla Walla penitentiary, submitted the following report:—

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon, }
February 1, 1893. }

Mr. President:

We, your joint committee appointed to visit the penitentiary at Walla Walla, Washington, and investigate the workings of the jute mill connected with the said penitentiary, and to report upon the advisability of establishing such a mill in this state, would most respectfully report as follows:—

That we have visited said penitentiary at Walla Walla, and have investigated the workings of the jute mill connected therewith, and by the courtesy of the board of directors of said institution and officers employed therein, and especially through the kindness of F. W. Paine, president of said board of directors, and James Brown, superintendent of said jute mill, we have obtained the following information:

BUILDINGS.

The buildings used in connection with the jute mill at Walla Walla are: One warehouse, 40 feet by 80 feet, and one main building, 96 feet by 204 feet, which main building contains the plant, and has a fire wall 22 feet high.

MACHINERY.

The machinery contained in said jute mill consists of a 50-loom plant, with one 250-horse-power Wheelock engine, with one Firmus rope power transmission, together with two overseaming machines, four sewing machines, one cutting machine, and one baler.

MEN EMPLOYED.

This jute mill employs about 215 convicts, with one superintendent of the jute mill, one superintendent of the weaving department, and two engineers. The character of the work in said mill is such that many convicts who are unable to do hard work may be employed therein with satisfaction to the state and to themselves. The work is clean, agreeable, and healthy.

ANNUAL OUTPUT.

The annual output of this jute mill is about 1,250,000 bags. The bags manufactured by this mill are superior to those manufactured at Calcutta, their quality being such that farmers in that vicinity haul grain in them to market, empty them, and use them several times.

COST OF BAG.

The cost of the manufactured bag at the Walla Walla mill, not counting the cost of convict labor, is about 4.51 cents. This is greater on account of high freight, and on account of the material having been purchased late in the season at nearly the highest market price, than the estimated cost of a bag at Salem.

EFFECT ON THE MARKET.

Concerning the effect on the market in the vicinity of Walla Walla of the establishment of the jute mill at that place, we quote from the report of the directors of said penitentiary: "When we placed the grain bags on the market, in July, 1892, the selling price in Walla Walla was $8\frac{1}{2}$ cents per bag. We offered bags of a better quality than the best Calcutta at $7\frac{1}{4}$ cents each. The dealers dropped to 7 cents and gave purchasers credit. In order to make sales for cash, as required by law, we were compelled to drop to $6\frac{1}{4}$ cents, at which price the market remained firm until the close of the season." This indicates a reduction in price to the consumer of 2 cents on each bag.

REVOLVING FUND.

The Washington legislature made an appropriation of $30,000, to constitute a revolving fund, which is used only for the purchase of material for the manufacture of jute fabrics and brick. This fund is insufficient, and its insufficiency materially handicaps the management in their operation of said mill.

MANUFACTURERS OF MACHINERY.

The machinery in the Walla Walla jute mill was manufactured by the following firms: One improved Wheelock engine, by Hoadley Brothers, engineers, San Francisco, Chicago, and Portland; the boilers and furnaces, by the Hazleton Tripod Boiler Company, Chicago; the Firmus rope transmission, by the Dodge Manufacturing Company, of Mishawaka, Indiana; the looms, overseaming, cutting, and dampening machines, by Urquhart-Lindsay Company (Limited), of Dundee; the spinners, by Fairbairn, Naylor, McPherson & Company, of Leeds, England; and the hemmers, by John H. Mooney, of Oakland, California.

In relation to the class of machinery used in Walla Walla as compared with the machinery used in San Quentin, California, we quote an extract from a letter written by James Faulkner, superintendent of the jute department of the San Quentin penitentiary: "The new machinery is superior to the old in many respects. The improvements over the old are for the better."

CONDITION AT SALEM.

We have in the Oregon penitentiary at present about 380 convicts, of which a large number have been idle during the past year. The contract for the manufacture of stoves having expired, almost the entire prison population are now without employment. This is a dangerous condition for prisoners to be in, and should be remedied.

In order to employ the number of convicts in the Oregon penitentiary in the manufacture of jute it will be necessary to establish a 100-loom plant in this state. This, it is estimated by one who has had a lifetime of experience in such industry, would give employment to about 325 men, leaving only a sufficient number to do the other work about the prison.

BUILDINGS.

The building now used as a stove warehouse, measuring 218 feet by 106 feet, is sufficiently large to be used as a warehouse for a 100-loom mill. The room heretofore used as a moulding room, 244 feet 9 inches by 108 feet 10 inches, 15 feet 6 inches high, and the room adjoining, heretofore used as a fitting-room, could be used, after the walls had been properly strengthened, for the main building of a 100-loom plant, with but comparatively small outlay to the state. It has been estimated by a competent millwright that the expense of strengthening the walls sufficiently to support the machinery of a 100-loom plant would be nominal.

WATER POWER.

The water power at the Oregon penitentiary is about 60 or 70 horse-power, and by improving the ditches and enlarging their banks doubtless 125 horse-power could be had. If this is sufficient to operate the mill, it will furnish power for the same without the large expense for coal necessarily incurred at San Quentin and

Walla Walla, and will thereby enable the state to manufacture jute bags cheaper than can be done at either of the places above mentioned; however, this committee would recommend the purchase of a 250-horse power engine for the purpose of furnishing power to operate said mill, as this committee is informed that said water power is insufficient.

EFFECT ON FREE LABOR.

The manufacture of jute fabrics is an industry not engaged in by free American labor, and therefore the establishment of a jute mill in the penitentiary will not affect free labor in any way. It has been estimated that the manufacture by convicts of stoves in this state has had the effect to prevent at least 200 men from engaging in that industry, thus depriving at least 1,000 persons from support in that way.

MACHINERY REQUIRED FOR 100-LOOM PLANT.

For a plant of a 100-loom capacity, machinery will be required as follows:—

- One jute softner and batching attachment.
- Two spiral shell breaker cards.
- Two balling machines.
- Four circular finisher cards.
- Four patent slide first drawing frames.
- Four spiral second drawing frames.
- Four spiral roving frames, 64 spindles each.
- Twelve double dry spinning frames, 132 spindles each.
- One twisting frame.
- Two double cop-winding machines, 104 spindles each.
- Two double two-tiered warping machines, 80 spindles each.
- Two patent yarn dressing machines, 4 steel cylinders each.
- Four sets iron work and buttons for dressing machine banks.
- One hundred plain motion Hessian looms, 52 inches reed space.
- One cloth dampening machine.
- One heavy 5-bowled chesting calender, 92 inches wide.
- One Blythe's patent sack-cutting machine.
- One hydraulic baling press, with pumps.
- Twelve overseam machines.
- Two hemmers.

COST OF MACHINERY.

The cost of machinery necessary to establish a 100-loom plant at Salem will be as follows:—

Machinery as above.....	$ 109,000 00
Engine and boilers.....	18,000 00

Power transmission, etc.....	$ 10,000 00
Repairs necessary on buildings.....	33,000 00
Total.....	$ 150,000 00

PROBABLE COST OF BAG AT SALEM.

It is estimated that the plant at Salem should be made to manufacture bags for the following:—

Monthly output in round numbers, grain bags.....	200,000
Two hundred thousands bags at 13 ounces, pounds---	162,500
Add 5 per cent for loss in manufacturing, pounds----	8,552

Total amount of jute consumed, pounds.....	171,052
One hundred and seventy-one thousand and fifty-two pounds raw jute at 3 cents per pound.....	$ 5,131 58
Actual operating expenses per month.....	1,975 14

Total cost of 200,000 grain bags.....	$ 7,106 72
---------------------------------------	-------------

This makes the cost of one grain bag equal $.0355336, which being sold for $.065 leaves a profit of nearly $.03, which being computed on a basis of an annual output of 2,500,000 bags, gives a profit of about $75,000 each year, or for 325 convicts an average daily earning of nearly 73 cents per man.

LENGTH OF TIME REQUIRED.

In order to get a 100-plant jute mill in good running order it will require about one year from the time the plant is ordered, as after the time has elapsed in which the machinery is on its way from the manufacturers until it is placed in operation at Salem, which will be a period of about nine months, it will require about three months to teach the convicts how to successfully operate the same. During this time, however, this committee is assured that a contract will be accepted by parties engaged in the manufacture of stoves on the same terms as has heretofore been in existence.

CONCLUSION.

In view of the foregoing estimates, which are conservative, and of the facts above stated, which have been derived from authoritative sources, this committee would respectfully recommend that an appropriation be made of $160,000 for the establishment of a mill for the manufacture of jute bags and bagging; and that a further appropriation of $80,000 be made to constitute a revolving fund, to be used for the purchase of material for manufacturing jute bags and bagging.

All of which is very respectfully submitted.

COMMUNICATION.

To the Senator and Representative for Baker County in the Legislative Assembly:

We, the county court of said county, hereby respectfully request that you and each of you use all honorable means to secure the enactment of a bill for the relief of Baker county; and with that end in view herewith enclose a bill for that purpose, which we think fully states the facts as they are as well as the purpose and need of the relief required.

We have won the action at law in the circuit court for the collection of these taxes, but an appeal is to be taken by the state; and if we can secure relief, by bill, it will save us an expensive litigation.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, }
SALEM, Oregon, }
February 4, 1893. }

Mr. President:

I am directed by the speaker to inform you that the house has adopted house joint memorial No. 10,—urging congress to take control and give financial assistance to the building of the Nicaraguan canal, etc.

And the same is herewith transmitted to you for the consideration of the senate.

D. C. SHERMAN,
Chief clerk.

HOUSE JOINT MEMORIAL NO. 10.

To the Congress of the United States: Your memorialist, the legislative assembly of the state of Oregon, would respectfully represent that, whereas we are firm believers in what is known as the "Monroe doctrine;" and whereas the building of the Nicaraguan canal would shorten the distance for water transportation between New York and Portland, Oregon, nine thousand miles, thereby saving a great deal of time and expense in the transportation of freight between said points; and whereas the building of said canal would greatly increase the trade and commerce of the United States, especially between its eastern and western seaports; and whereas the building of said canal would cheapen a great many of the necessities of life to the consumer of the west, and would furnish them a better and nearer market for the products of their farms and mines; therefore we urgently ask that congress take supervision and control of the building of this canal, giving to it financial assistance, but would recommend that the assistance so given be given only upon the condition that the United States have and retain control of said canal, and that it have a first lien upon said canal and the proceeds thereof for the money so advanced; and your memorialists will ever pray.

On motion of Mr. Alley, house joint memorial No. 10 was referred to the committee on commerce.

Senate bill No. 216. Mr. McGinn. (By unanimous consent.) An act to amend the present method of trial by jury.

Absent—Messrs. Beckley, Cross, Denny, McAlister, and Raley—5.

On motion of Mr. McGinn, the bill was referred to the committee on judiciary.

Senate bill No. 217. Mr. Willis, by request. (By unanimous consent.) A bill for an act to authorize and direct the governor, secretary of state, and state treasurer of the state of Oregon, as and composing the board of capitol building commissioners, to negotiate and procure the cancellation of the light contract with the Oregon Electric Light Company, so as to secure the restoration to the state of the water power, grounds, and buildings now occupied and used by said company under said contract and the release of the state from the payments required by said contract, and to enter into a contract with the Salem Light and Power Company for the lighting of the state house and other state buildings and institutions at the state capitol, and to appropriate money therefor.

Whereas some six and one half years ago the state entered into a contract with the Oregon Electric Light Company for the lighting for ten years with electricity the state institutions at the state capitol, the state being obligated thereby to pay said company the sum of $5,000 each year during said term of ten years; and whereas the service furnished by said company is grossly inadequate, insufficient, unreliable, and unsatisfactory, and the state is required, by reason of the poor quality and insufficiency of the lights furnished and the failure of said company to furnish necessary lights, to expend annually large additional sums of money for gas and other lights, and besides, the system of lighting used by said company in the capitol building is dangerous, and has at times started fires in the capitol building and endangers the safety of the buildings and archives of the state, and the said sum of $5,000 being paid each year by the state to said company is exorbitant and unreasonable; and whereas by the terms of said contract said company is in possession of and using certain water power, grounds, and buildings belonging to the state, which the state by the terms of said contract is bound to provide and furnish said company during the whole of said ten years in addition to paying said sum of $5,000 per year, and the state now requires and needs to use said water power, grounds, and buildings; and whereas to continue said contract for the unexpired term would entail upon the state the loss of $17,500 to be paid to said company in addition to the use of said water power, grounds, and buildings, and the further sums the state would be required to pay for gas in order to sufficiently light its buildings during said term; and whereas the Salem Light and Power Company has a complete, well-equipped, and extensive lighting plant at the city of Salem, and possess ample facilities to furnish the state all of the electric light of the best quality required for the public buildings at the state capitol, and offers to enter into a contract with the state to do the lighting of all public buildings and state institutions at the state capitol at rate less than the state could procure light in any other manner; and whereas a great saving would result to the state by making such contract with said Salem Light and Power Company, and the state will thereby be supplied with proper, necessary, and sufficient lights for its buildings, and the danger of fire to the state house and destruction of the archives would be averted.

Senate bill No. 217 was read first time.

Mr. Willis moved that the rules be suspended and that senate bill No. 217 be read second time now and by title only.

On this question the roll was called and the vote was:

Those voting aye were:

Absent—Messrs. Beckley, Cross, Hayes, Looney, McAlister, and Raley—6.

So the rules were suspended and senate bill No. 217 was read second time by title only.

On motion of Mr. Willis, the bill was referred to the committee on judiciary.

Absent—Messrs. Beckley, Cross, Hayes, McAlister, Raley, and Weatherford—6.

So the rules were suspended and senate bill No. 218 was read second time by title only.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Woodard introduced senate joint resolution No. 9.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 9.

Whereas there is a widespread and growing sentiment that the only practical solution of the convict labor problem, on a basis that shall encounter the least opposition from the various trade industries of our state, will be attained by employment of said convicts in building roads and highways throughout our state; and whereas the question of introducing jute mills for employment of convicts is at best experimental, and will be attended with enormous expenditure of public money, and should it be adopted and ultimately found unsatisfactory and inexpedient, we will not only have wasted public funds but be confronted again by the same problem, involving probably another uncertain outlay, each change increasing state burdens without accomplishing permanent relief; and whereas the question of better roads is now engrossing the attention of our own as well as other progressive states in the union; and whereas it is believed that the employment of our convicts in building good roads will better subserve the interests of all portions of our state; therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate, the House concurring, That a joint committee of five, consisting of two on the part of the senate and three on the part of the house, be appointed to consider and formulate some plan and draft a bill for an act to the end that a portion or all of the convicts of our state may be so employed and utilized in building the public roads and highways of the state.

COMMUNICATION.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE, }
SALEM, Oregon, }
February 8, 1893. }

To the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon—GENTLEMEN: I beg leave to ask the attention of your honorable body to the claim of the state of Oregon for reimbursement of moneys expended in the suppression of the war of the rebellion, the principal of which claim, as approved by the board of war claims examiners, amounts, without interest, to the sum of $224,526.53. Senator Dolph has recently introduced an amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill for the payment of this claim, together with similar claims of the states of California and Nevada. A tabular statement prepared by the treasury department of the United States, containing the name of every state loyal to the union during the rebellion, excepting the states of California, Oregon, and Nevada, shows that the United States has reimbursed said loyal states sums of money expended on account of the war of the rebellion aggregating (up to March 15, 1892,) the sum of $44,725,072.38. Justice and equity demand that the states of California, Oregon, and Nevada be also reimbursed for such expenses, which have been fully proven after most rigid examination by the board of war claims examiners. As congress will take early action on Senator Dolph's amendment, I deem it my duty now to present this matter for such action as the legislative assembly shall deem expedient and just.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

GEO. W. McBRIDE,

Secretary of State.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Hirsch introduced senate joint memorial No. 1.

SENATE JOINT MEMORIAL NO. 1.

To the Congress of the United States : Whereas the state of Oregon has heretofore paid a large sum of money to aid the United States in maintaining the common defense in the suppression of the war of the rebellion, the amount of which has been shown by the reports of the honorable secretary of war made to congress; and whereas said debt has not yet been paid but is long since due; and whereas Hon. J. N. Dolph has introduced in the senate of the United States an amendment to be proposed to the sundry civil appropriation bill making an appropriation to pay said claim, together with similar claims of the states of California and Nevada; and whereas the United States has reimbursed other states of the union for sums of money expended on account of the war of the rebellion, such payments aggregating, up to March 15, 1892, the sum of $44,725,072.38, but has not paid any sum whatever on said accounts to the said states of California, Oregon, and Nevada; therefore be it

Resolved by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon, That justice and equity demand that the payment of said claims should be no longer delayed by the United States, and that an appropriation of money therefor should be made by congress at this time; and be it further

Resolved, That this memorial be telegraphed by the secretary of state to our senators and representatives in congress, and that written copies thereof, duly certified, shall be forwarded to the presiding officers of the senate and of the house of representatives of the United States.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

STATE OF OREGON, EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 8, 1893. }

To the Honorable the Senate of the State of Oregon: I herewith return senate bill No 21, with my dissent. This bill proposes to take $60,000, collected from the people through the taxing power of the state, and place it in the hands of a commission to be expended in making a show at Chicago.

The legislature has the undeniable right to levy taxes for the general benefit, but a well defined line of limit is clearly established between those benefits that are practical, and those that are merely speculative. It is unquestioned that the legislature can authorize expenditures for works of utility necessary for the general welfare, but it is more than questionable if it has the right to levy taxes upon the people for intangible and uncertain benefits such as are supposed to accrue from advertising their products, either in Chicago, Japan, or elsewhere. To tax some people for the benefit of others or to tax the people for any other purpose than for the frugal administration of government in the full exercise of its undoubted prerogatives may not be specifically inhibited by any constitutional provision, but it is so repugnant to right as to be equally condemnatory, for the precepts of justice should be as binding upon the conscience of the legislator as are the restrictions of the constitution. Let it be conceded that the legislature can exercise the power of levying taxes at its own will and for any purpose, and the taxpayer will become at once the prey of the schemer, and corruption and extravagance through duly enacted statutes, clothed with all the forms and sancity of law, will hold high carnival over the spoilation of the citizen. A departure from the one safe rule that the taxation of the people by the government should be strictly limited to its honest administration in the exercise of necessary governmental functions, would open wide the door for public speculation at the expense of private thrift, and if once sanctioned, our state government would soon become what the federal government for more than a quarter of a century has been, a most effective instrumentality for the robbery of the taxpayer for the benefit of the boodler. I veto the bill.

SYLVESTER PENNOYER,
Governor.

Mr. Matlock moved that the rules be suspended and that senate bill No. 21 be made the special order for to-morrow at 11 o'clock A. M.

2. If the objections be filed the court shall notwithstanding allow the order confirming the sale, unless on the hearing of the motion it shall satisfactorily appear that there were substantial irregularities in the proceedings concerning the sale to the probable loss or injury of the party objecting. In the latter case the court shall disallow the motion and direct that the property be re-sold in whole or in part, as the case may be, as upon an execution received of that date.

3. Upon the return of the execution the sheriff shall pay the proceeds of the sale to the clerk who shall then apply the same, or so much thereof as may be necessary, in satisfaction of the judgment. If an order of re-sale be afterwards made and the property sells for a greater amount to any person other than the former purchaser, the clerk shall first re-pay to such purchaser the amount of his bid out of the proceeds of the latter sale.

4. Upon a re-sale the bid of the purchaser at the former sale shall be deemed to renewed and continue in force, and no bid shall be taken except for a greater amount. If the motion to confirm be not heard and decided at the term at which it is made it may be continued and heard and determined before the judge, or at any term thereafter. An order confirming a sale shall be a conclusive determination of the regularity of the proceedings concerning such sale as to all persons in any other action, suit, or proceeding whatever.

5. If, after the satisfaction of the judgment, there be any proceeds of the sale remaining, the clerk shall pay such proceeds to the judgment debtor or his representative, as the case may be, at any time before the order is made upon the motion to confirm the sale; provided, such party file with the clerk a waiver of all objections made or to be made to the proceedings concerning the sale, but if the sale be confirmed, such proceeds shall be paid to such party, of course, otherwise they shall remain in the custody of the clerk until the sale of the property has been disposed of.

AMENDMENT.

That all of said bill after the enacting clause be stricken out and in lieu thereof the following be inserted:—

Section 1. Whenever any number of persons, not less than five, shall desire to incorporate a building and loan or savings and loan association, having for its object the business of receiving and accumulating the contributions or deposits, or both, of its members and lending the same, but only to its members, they shall make a written declaration to that effect. Such declaration shall be signed, sealed, and acknowledged in the form now provided by the statutes of this state for the conveyance of real estate, and shall include the following:—

1. The name of the association; the name shall not be the same as nor to closely resemble that in use by any existing corporation established under the laws of this state. The words "building and loan association" or "savings and loan association" shall form a part of the name, and no corporation not organized under this act shall be entitled to use a name embodying either said combination of words; provided, that associations now existing may continue their present names.

2. The principal office or place of business of the association, which shall be within this state.

3. The amount of capital stock and the number of shares into which the same shall be divided; provided, that no shares shall be of less par value than one hundred dollars.

4. The time of its duration.

5. A provision that such association is organized under this act for the purposes herein expressed.

6. The names and residences of the persons who shall make, subscribe, and acknowledge the said declaration, a majority of whom shall be citizens of this state, and who shall thereafter be called corporators.

Section 2. When so signed, sealed, and acknowledged, the declaration shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, who shall file and record the same. Thereupon the secretary of state shall make and issue a copy of said declaration, with his certificate attached, setting forth the facts of the filing and recording of such declaration in his office. The copy of the declaration so certified shall forthwith be recorded in the office of the county recorder of conveyances of the county where the principal place of business of such corporation shall be situated, and in those counties where there is no county recorder of conveyances then in the office of the county clerk of such county. Upon compliance with the foregoing requirements, the corporators so executing such declaration, their associates, successors, and assigns shall become and be a corporate body, bearing the name set forth in such declaration, with power to sue and be sued, to contract and be contracted with, to have and use a corporate seal and to change the same at pleasure; to purchase, possess, hold, dispose, or sell such real or personal property as may be necessary and convenient to carry on its business, and in the effectual furtherance of the purposes of such association; to borrow money for the purpose of making loans and paying withdrawals, and to appoint or elect such directors, officers, and agents as the business of the association may require, and prescribe their duties and fix their compensation.

Section 3. The conduct and management of the affairs and business of such association shall be vested in a board of directors, which shall consist of not less than five nor more than ten members. The corporators of the association shall serve as directors until the first meeting of the stockholders, to be held at the time provided for by this act, or until their successors are elected and qualified, after which the directors shall be elected by the stockholders of the association, who shall be entitled to cast one vote for each director to be elected for each share in good standing in his or her name. The directors, unless it be otherwise provided by the bylaws of the association, shall elect or appoint all the other officers of the association. Not more than four of the officers of any such association incorporated under the laws of this state shall be members of the board of directors of such association.

Section 4. Within sixty days after recording such declaration in the records of the county wherein the principal place of business is situated, the corporators then acting in the capacity of directors shall adopt appropriate bylaws to govern and prescribe the methods and the officers by whom the business of the association shall be conducted. The bylaws shall be in conformity with the provisions of this act and the laws of this state, and at all times during the regular hours of business shall be open to the inspection of the members at its principal place of business. The bylaws, among other things, shall specially provide for the character and methods of conducting the business of the association, with rules governing the admission of members, the sale of its shares, the amount of admission fee, the amount of and the periods when dues shall be paid by the members to the association, the disposition and investment of the funds of the association, including loans, the amount of premiums to be paid for, and the rate of interest on loans, the charges of management providing for the annual meeting of the shareholders of the association, for the election of directors and the appointment of the subordinate officers, for the adoption, ratification, and amendment of the bylaws, for the method of voting at such annual meeting, and for the periodical investigation of the business and condition of such association.

Section 5. At least thirty days prior to any annual or special meeting of any such association, a notice stating the time and place of such meeting shall be deposited in the postoffice at the headquarters of such association, directed to each member at his address as the same appears at the time on the books of the association; and when so deposited, postage prepaid, shall be deemed a legal and sufficient notice of any such meeting, and there shall be attached to and accompany such notice any proposed amendment or amendments to the articles of association or bylaws of such association, and a statement of any officer to be elected at such meeting. All members of such association shall be entitled to vote at such meetings in person or by proxy.

Section 6. All the moneys received by the association from whatever source, after deducting the fixed charges for management, shall be loaned to the shareholders of the association, and to them only, and in all cases shall be secured by first mortgage on real estate. The amount of such loan shall in no case exceed sixty (60) per cent of the appraised value of such real estate. The execution of the mortgage papers shall be accompanied by a transfer pledge of the shares of the borrower to the association. The shares so pledged shall be held by the corporation, on the terms to be prescribed by the bylaws, as collateral security for the performance of the conditions of the mortgage; provided, that the shares of the association without other security, may, in the discretion of the directors, be accepted as security for the loans for an amount not exceeding their withdrawal value as provided by this act.

The bylaws shall provide for the mode in which applications or bids for loans shall be made and received, and who shall be entitled to preference in allotting the same. All loans shall be made and considered by the directors upon such application or bids, and in no other way. The minimum amount and nature of premiums to be bid or asked for loans shall be fixed and described in the bylaws, but the same may from time to time be changed by a two thirds vote of all the members of the board of directors.

Section 7. Any premium taken for loans and fines imposed for the non-payment of dues made by any association governed by this act shall not be considered or treated as interest.

Section 8. No association governed by this act shall set apart as an expense fund, exclusive of admission fees, to exceed ten (10) cents per month upon each share of its stock, or assess any fines for non-payment of monthly installment, or otherwise, in excess of ten (10) cents per share for the first month that the same shall be in arrears, and fifteen (15) cents per share per month for every month thereafter.

Section 9. Any shareholder whose stock is not delinquent, and has not been declared forfeited in such association, and whose share or shares are not pledged upon a loan, may withdraw such share or shares from the association at any time after one year by giving at least sixty days' notice in writing to the secretary of his intention to do so. At the end of said sixty days, the association shall pay to the members so surrendering as follows: If said stock is not more than two years old, all amounts paid in by such members upon such stock, except the sums paid as membership fees and fines, and the amount of such payments set apart by said association as an expense fund, which expense fund, however, shall not exceed the amount fixed in this act. If said stock is more than two years old, the member, upon such surrender, shall receive, in addition to the amount above specified, at least three fourths of all profits standing to the credit of such shares; provided, that not more than one half of the monthly installments received by such association for any month shall be used to pay withdrawals without consent of the board of directors.

Section 10. Any such association may purchase at any sale, public or private, any real estate upon which it may have a mortgage, judgment, lien, or other incumbrance, or in which it may have any interest, and may sell, convey, lease, or mortgage the same at pleasure to any person or persons, but shall not otherwise acquire or deal in real estate; provided, that any such association may acquire any leasehold interest necessary or convenient for the transaction of its business.

Section 11. All such associations heretofore organized under the laws of this state, or incorporated under this act, are hereby prohibited from hereafter creating or issuing any preferred or non-contributing stock; provided, that prepaid stock may be issued, upon which one cash payment shall be made in lieu of installments, and upon which a semi-annual dividend of not to exceed three (3) per cent on the amount paid for said stock may be paid in cash before maturity, which said stock shall not be sold at less than fifty (50) per cent of its par value; but this section shall not prevent the issue of different classes of stock.

Section 6. Every building and loan association heretofore or hereafter incorporated under the laws of this state, and governed by this act, shall deposit and keep with the secretary of state, or with a responsible trust company of this state, approved by the secretary of state, in trust for all its members and creditors, all mortgage or other securities received by it in the usual course of business. When deposited with a trust company, such company shall certify to the secretary of state the possession of such securities, and the same shall not be surrendered without the authority or sanction of the secretary of state; provided, that every such corporation heretofore organized, not having or owning mortgage or other securities to the amount of twenty-five thousand ($25,000) dollars, shall on or before January 1, 1894, deposit with the secretary of state additional securities to make, with the securities so owned and deposited, equal in value to said sum of twenty-five thousand ($25,000) dollars, and every such corporation hereafter organized under this act shall deposit and keep with the secretary of state in trust, as aforesaid, securities of the value of twenty-five thousand ($25,000) dollars before commencing to do business. The securities mentioned in this proviso shall consist of bonds or treasury notes of the United States, or national bank stocks, or bonds of this state, or any other state of the United States, or of any solvent city, county, or town of this state, or any other state of the United States having a legal authority to issue the same, and such securities may be withdrawn from time to time when mortgage securities of corresponding value shall be deposited, as provided in this act, or when other securities of like character are substituted therefor.

Section 13. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state annually to examine said associations and to ascertain whether or not all its securities are deposited, as required by this act, and as compensation for such service the secretary of state shall receive ten dollars ($10) per day and ten (10) cents per mile in going to and returning from the place of such examination.

Section 14. All interest and dividends and premiums which may accrue on securities held by the secretary of state, or such trust company as provided for herein, and all dues or monthly payments which may become payable on stock pledged as security for loans, the mortgages for which are so deposited in accordance with the provisions of this act, may be collected and retained by the association depositing such securities or mortgages so long as such association remains solvent and faithfully performs all contracts with its members. Any mortgages upon which default has been made may be surrendered upon presentation of an affidavit sworn to by the president and secretary of the association owning the same, stating that such mortgage is in default, and that it is withdrawn for the purpose of foreclosure.

Section 15. No building and loan association or savings and loan association organized under the laws of any other state, territory, or nation shall do business in this state unless such association shall have securities of the value of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) and of the character mentioned in this act, on deposit in trust for all its members and creditors with some responsible trust company, duly incorporated under the laws of such state or territory in the United States, or with some authorized officer of this or some other state of the United States; provided, that foreign companies now doing business in this state shall have until January 1, 1894, to deposit the required one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000). A certificate of such deposit shall be filed with the secretary of state of this state, certifying the possession of such securities, which shall not thereafter be surrendered without authority or consent of the secretary of state.

Section 16. Every building and loan association or savings and loan association organized under the laws of any other state, territory, or nation shall, before commencing to do business in this state,—first, file with the secretary of state of this state a duly authenticated copy of its charter or articles of incorporation; second, file with the secretary of state of this state a duly authenticated copy of a resolution adopted by the board of directors of such association appointing an attorney for such association, resident in this state, upon whom legal process may be served, and whose name and residence shall be stated in said resolutions, and also an agreement that said association will pay every judgment that may be taken against it upon any such action within (60) days after the final judgment shall have been entered; third, pay to the secretary of state five dollars ($5.00) as fees for filing the papers mentioned in this act.

Section 17. The word "process" in this act shall include any writ, declaration, summons, or order whereby any action, writ, or proceeding shall be commenced or which shall be issued in or during any action, suit, or proceeding authorized by law in this state.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 10.

Whereas there is a widespread and growing sentiment that the only practical solution of the convict labor problem upon a basis

to be

which shall encounter the least opposition from the various trade industries throughout our state would be attained by the employment of said convicts in building roads and highways throughout our state; and whereas the problem of introducing jute mills at this time for the employment of said convicts is at best experimental and one attended by enormous expenditure of public money, and should it be adopted and ultimately found unsatisfactory and inexpedient we will not only have wasted our funds, but will be confronted again by the same problem in some amended form involving perhaps another exorbitant outlay of money, each change adding to the burden of taxation without accomplishing any permanent relief; and whereas the problem of better roads is one now engrossing the attention not only the citizens of our own but of nearly every other progressive state in the union; and whereas it is believed that the employment of our convicts in building good roads and in the construction of the fish ladder at Oregon City would better subserve the interests of all portions of the state; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, the House concurring. That a joint committee of five, consisting of three on the part of the house and two on the part of the senate, be appointed to consider and formulate some plan and draft an act to that end, that a portion or all of the state convicts may be so employed and utilized in building the public roads or highways of the state.

other premiums, repairs on buildings and fences on grounds, improvements thereon, and the necessary expenses incidental to the conduct of the annual fairs, and the preservation of the buildings and property during the eight years of this management the sum of $116,624.04.

Your committee also finds that there remains an indebtedness which is a lien upon the lands aforesaid of about $11,000. That in 1891 the state agricultural society, in consideration of assuming all the liabilities of said society, at the date of transfer deeded to the state board of agriculture in fee simple their said lands consisting of one hundred and fifty-eight acres, together with all the improvements thereon, and that now said land is the property of the people of the state of Oregon, and worth in our judgment at least one hundred thousand dollars.

Your committee visited the Oregon state fair grounds and carefully examined the property thus acquired. There are two electric car lines entering the grounds terminating near the pavilion. The grounds are well laid out and arranged for fair purposes; but many of the buildings are old and inadequate to the demands made upon them during the annual fairs. New horse, cattle, sheep, and swine stalls are needed. The fences need to be replaced by new ones. The water works system put in at a large expense has given out and must soon be replaced. Your committee desires to say that from the investigation we have made it appears that the board has been forced during its entire management to use the most rigid economy in order to enable them to pay off the indebtedness and interest owing by the Oregon state agricultural society. That all their surplus earnings have been used for this purpose, which has compelled the board to defer making the necessary improvements above mentioned.

Therefore your committee would respectfully recommend, in view of the fact that said land and improvements now belong to the state, that an adequate appropriation be made with which to make such improvements as are absolutely necessary.

On motion of Mr. Looney, the report was referred to the committee on ways and means.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

STATE OF OREGON, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 14, 1893. }

To the Honorable the House of Representatives of the State of Oregon:
I herewith return house bill No. 11 without my approval. The main objection to this bill is that it provides for serious obstruction to the Portland harbor. The growth and prosperity of Portland are mainly attributable to its fine and commodious harbor facilities. Vessels laden with the products of every clime came hither, and the city sprang into existence at that point most advantageous for the loading and unloading of vessels. The center of Portland was fixed at the center of river and ocean commerce. Capital has been invested, and great improvements have been made in obedience to the national and undisturbed laws of commerce and trade. If the legislative assembly of the state of Oregon, by the passage of this bill, permits and sanctions the building of a bridge at the point in the river designated by it, it will have the most certain effect of transferring the center of commerce still further from the center of the city, whereby additional burdens will be placed upon commerce and upon the present business center of Portland. More than this, and still more objectionable, is the fact that the location of a bridge here by the sanction of law and by the exercise of the taxing power of government will have the undoubted effect of making more valuable certain portions of the city and less valuable other portions. The people of the present business center will be taxed to build up trade at other points, and to transfer the business they now enjoy to others who will be located on the new avenues of travel opened up. Such an exercise of the taxing power of government is entirely alien to any of the purposes for which it was conferred, and is a species of class legislation utterly indefensible in principle and absolutely abhorrent to justice. If any government purposes to engage in paternal legislation, it should do so for the protection and not for the robbery of its citizens. A paternal government that prevents one class of its citizens from robbing another class is to be commended, but a government that exercises paternalism by its taxing power to benefit the citizens of certain localities at the expense of citizens of other localities is to be condemned.

This bill provides for the construction of a free bridge at the expense of the taxpayers. It is indeed proper for government at times, when the people are oppressed by the exactions of private corporations, to assume control when other remedies are powerless, and by the expenditure of money raised by the operation of the taxing power to relieve the people in matters where they are unjustly taxed. Great care, however, should be exercised so that in preventing unjust exaction in one quarter such unjust exaction should not be exercised in another quarter. If unreasonable tolls are demanded by private corporations owning bridges, government should either interfere to reduce those tolls or to build bridges demanding reasonable tolls. To build bridges, however, by the taxation of the whole people, and make such bridges free from all toll for the benefit of a portion only of the people, is nothing more or less than class legislation, pure and simple. The city of Portland has issued bonds for building bridges and for supplying its citizens with water. If the bridges are to be free, why should not the water be free, and on the very same principle, why should not free bread be furnished through the operation of the taxing power? Portland, in regard to its bridges, should pursue the identical policy which it pursues in regard to the water furnished to its citizens. Those using the one ought to pay what those using the other are usually compelled to pay,—a reasonable compensation for such use. This is the only legitimate business proposition, and the only one that fully accords with justice. To provide by general taxation for free bridges would be to tax some people for the benefit of others, and to disturb by force of law the values of property, enhancing the property of some at the expense of others who by law are taxed, if not for that purpose, then most assuredly with that result. There is no more justice in the demand for free bridges than there is for free water or free bread. A reasonable toll should be demanded from all vehicles for the use of the bridge, but as the wear of foot passengers is of no importance whatever, no toll ought to be collected from them.

Portland has already an authorized indebtedness of $5,695,000, the interest charge on which amounts to about $285,000 per annum. It is high time that a halt was ordered. The people of Portland and the people of the whole state are both vitally interested in the prosperity of the commercial metropolis of Oregon, and they therefore ought to stand together in solid opposition to a scheme that not only proposes to destroy a portion of its splendid harbor, but also to hang about its neck an additional millstone of indebtedness. About one year ago, the people of Portland, East Portland, and Albina were living under three separate municipal governments and knew no rivalry except that generous emulation which sought to secure in each city the best government at the least expense. Infatuated with the promises of the real estate boomer, and under the spell of a midsummer madness, they relinquished their independent governments and became merged into one municipality with the unexpected but legitimate results of increased taxation instead of reduced taxation, and of stagnation in business and decline of values instead of increased prosperity with advance of prices and business enterprises. And now, like the unfortunate victim of the morphine habit, there is a demand for increased indebtedness at the expense of needed harbor room to restore a hectic warmth to one locality only of the widespread municipality. The bridge proposed is not on one of the great avenues of trade, nor on a large line of travel, and its erection would not only seriously interfere with needed harbor room, but would be sure to disturb by the taxing power of the government well-established business centers and compel citizens of Portland by the fiat of law to contribute money that would be expended for the depreciation both of their property and their business. Such class legislation can never receive my approval. I veto the bill.

SYLVESTER PENNOYER,
Governor.

On motion of Mr. Willis, house bill No. 11 and the governor's message were laid on the table.

On motion of Mr. Maxwell, senate bill No. 73 was taken from the table.

D. 1895.

C. H. WOODARD,
Chairman.

On motion of Mr. Woodard, the report was adopted.

To the Honorable Joseph W. Fifer, Governor of the State of Illinois :

In accordance with the terms of a joint resolution adopted by the thirty-seventh general assembly of the state of Illinois, under which the undersigned were appointed a commission "to make investigation of our present system of transferring land titles, and to consider whether a more simple, expeditious, and inexpensive system, and one that will give greater security of title, cannot be adopted, and especially to inquire into the practical workings of what is known as the Australian or Torrens system of registration of titles, and whether it can be adapted to the constitution and laws of the state," such commission now beg leave to make the following report:—

In Illinois transfers are made by deed, the seller always being compelled to show that his deed is the last link in an unbroken chain of properly drawn, executed and recorded conveyances reaching back to the patent from the government, a period usually covering more than fifty years. The record of the prior deeds simply excuses the production of their originals. Each dealing with the land necessitates a careful inspection of this chain of title. The owner must provide an abstract of title, which is a condensed but complete history of the title, consisting of a summary of all conveyances and instruments affecting the land.

The mere making of a perfect abstract of title to a piece of land, with all the incumbrances which affect it, involves a great exercise of legal learning and careful research, and can be safely done only by skillful persons. This abstract of title, having been acquired by the owner with the land, must be brought down by the abstract-maker to show all matters of record affecting the title which have transpired since. The abstract of title is then submitted to the attorney for the buyer, who gives his client an opinion upon the title as disclosed by the abstract, upon which opinion, if satisfactory, the proposed transfer is affected by the payment of the consideration and the delivery of the deed. The last named act passes the title.

This system is found unsatisfactory in the following particulars:

1. The expense.—The cost of the abstract, either in whole or its continuation, is necessary in each transfer of title. To this must be added the cost of its examination by the attorney for the buyer. In Cook county the average outlay for these two items will be probably not far from $25. It is estimated that in Illinois the annual costs of abstracts of title and their examination by counsel is upwards of $10,000,000.

2. The delay.—Too long a time intervenes between the making of the contract of sale and the delivery of the deed. Delays consequent upon procuring abstracts, their examination and hunting up matters that do not appear of record, frequently run into many months.

3. The insecurity.—Errors may intervene not only in the making of the abstract, but in the opinion of the buyer's attorney. As against all such errors the buyer assumes the risk. If the defects be sufficiently serious, he may lose the land, and then may recover damages from his grantor under covenants of warranty.

4. The always increasing record of instruments and matters connected with the title, the accumulation of books and indexes in the recorder's office, and the lengthening of the abstracts of title, steadily increase the cost of transfers and the risks of errors. Since October, 1871, there have accumulated in the recorder's office in Cook county more than 4,200 large books of records of deeds and mortgages each with about 600 pages. At the present rate of annual increase, within fifty years, these books will be so numerous as to require a large building for their keeping; and the time and expense necessary for their examination will very seriously interfere with transfers.

5. These defects in the present system operate as a perpetual tax upon the holders of real estate, directly reduce its ease of convertibility into money, and thus lower its market value. This burden is always increasing. No way is perceived by which the present system can be retained and these defects removed.

After careful examination of the different methods of transferring real property now in use in the civilized countries of the world, the commission beg to recommend the introduction in Illinois of a system containing the essential features of what is commonly known as the Torrens system of registration of title.

This system has been in operation for over a century in Prussia, Bavaria, and other European states, notably in Hamburg, where it has been used for upwards of 600 years. It has been in use since 1858 in South Australia, since 1861 in Queensland, since 1862 in Victoria, and also in New South Wales, since 1863 in Tasmania, since 1870 in New Zealand and in British Columbia, since 1874 in Western Australia, since 1884 in Ontario, and since 1885 in Manitoba.

So far as your commissioners have been able to learn, the system has given general satisfaction to the land-owners of every country where it has been tried. One country after another has adopted it, each with uniform success. Wherever it has been tried it is in actual use today.

In 1875 this system was put in operation in England, but a comparatively small part of land-owners as yet have availed themselves of its benefits. The register-general in England reports that the number of registered owners is steadily increasing, and that the manifest advantages of a registered title are gradually overcoming the deep-rooted opposition of the English land-owner to having his title a matter of public record.

Your commission are of the opinion that the essential features of the Torrens system may be adopted and used in the state of Illinois, without amendment to our constitution or material change in our existing laws. To that end they have prepared the draft of a bill which accompanies this report.

The outlines of this bill, in brief, are as follows:—

The recorders of deeds are made registrars, and in addition to their usual duties as recorders will conduct the registration of titles, and all dealings with registered lands. They are assisted by deputies and such examiners of title (who must be attorneys at law) as may be necessary. It does not seem necessary to create any new offices or officials, and almost all the machinery necessary to transfer land by registration of title, is already to be found in our recorders' offices.

Any owner may register his land. None are required to do so. The owner files with the registrar his application in writing for the registration of his title, together with his abstract of title. These are passed upon by the examiners, and if in their opinion the title is in the applicant, the land is registered by its entry in the registry book of the registrar. Such entry is a certificate signed by the registrar, certifying the title to the land to be in the applicant. This is called the certificate of title, and is made in duplicate. One is kept by the registrar and bound in the register; the other is delivered to the owner. During the first five years after the land is first registered, the certificate of title is prima facie proof receivable in all courts that the person named therein is the owner of the land. After the expiration of five years from the first registration, no suit attacking the title of the registered owner can be brought, and the certificate of title is conclusive proof in all courts of the ownership of its holder. Provision is made for the protection of the rights of all adverse owners whose right of action may not have accrued at the time of registration, and proper additional time is given in which to bring such action. All constitutional rights of any owner or claimant adverse to the registered owner are fully protected.

Certificates of title as to all adverse rights outstanding at the time of first registration are absolute and indefeasible, subject only to the foregoing limitation period. As to all rights adverse to the title of the registered owner accruing subsequent to the first registration, all certificates of title, except as against a fraudulent holder, are absolute and indefeasible. If any such right be established it is enforceable not against the registered land held by one free from fraud, but only against the person fraudulently defeating such right, or against the registrar upon his bond for negligence in improper registration. It is essential to this method of registration that the act of the registrar in dealing with a registered title be held absolute; and a transfer of or dealing with the title by him must be taken by all to be as unimpeachable and conclusive as though his act were the final decree of a court of last resort, with all parties properly before it. To grant such finality to the act of the registrar is not in violation of any constitutional right, since it is clearly within the power of the legislature to provide that all right, estate, or interest in registered land acquired after its first registration shall be acquired and held subject to such power in the registrar. The act becomes a rule of property governing all subsequent dealings after the first registration, the same as if its terms were embodied in the instrument of conveyance.

By the terms of the proposed bill indefeasibility of title, as against adverse interest outstanding at the time of the first registration and upon which cause of action has accrued is not secured until after the expiration of the term of five years allowed for the establishment of such interests. In the very few cases where such outstanding interests may be possibly overlooked by the examiners in preparing for the first registration, and the cause of action thereon may not have accrued, and, therefore, be not subject to any statute of limitation, the time when the registered title becomes indefeasible may be somewhat extended. But such cases must necessarily be rare, and in the vast majority of titles which have been registered for five years, the registered owner will hold a practically perfect title, which by lapse of time will ripen into one absolutely indefeasible.

No valid objection can be urged against the length of the limitations provided by the act. Our present statute of limitation is in many cases even more stringent, and all rights in property are cut off by such statutes without compensation. The misfortune in the present system is that all statutes of limitation are made to run upon matters which do not appear upon record, and therefore are not available in determining the merchantable character of the title. The striking advantage of the limitations in the proposed act is that the statute begins to run upon the entry of the land upon the register, which is a matter of public record.

Transfers of registered land are made in the following manner: The owner executes the usual deed (quitclaim, special, or general warranty) and submits it, together with his certificate of title, to the buyer. In every transaction the owner must produce his certificate of title. He can do absolutely nothing without it. If lost or destroyed, upon proper showing the owner receives a certified copy marked "owner's certified copy, issued in place of duplicate lost," which answers the same purpose as the lost certificate. No new forms of conveyance are required. The buyer, after inspection of the proper folium of title in the register, and finding thereon no incumbrance or lien, safely pays over the purchase money, and receives the deed and certificate of title. He then delivers them both to the registrar, who notes the transfer upon the register. This act operates to transfer the title. No title passes by the delivery of the deed. The deed after delivery and before the registration of the transfer is a mere contract between the parties. Its sole object is to authorize the registrar to register the transfer. When the transfer is registered, the registrar cancels the old certificate of title and issues a new one in duplicate as before, one called the original, being retained in the register, and the other called the duplicate, delivered to the buyer, now the new owner. The deed is kept by the registrar.

A mortgage of registered land is effected in somewhat the same manner. The owner executes the mortgage in duplicate, and delivers it, with the note or bond and his certificate of title, to the lender. The latter, after inspection of the proper folium in the register and finding thereon no incumbrance or lien, safely pays over the money to the borrower, and receives the mortgage securities with the certificate of title. He retains the note or bond and delivers the duplicate mortgage to the registrar, who notes the transaction upon the register, as well as upon the certificate of title. The latter is thereupon returned to the borrower, who may use the same in effecting a second or third or more mortgages. One of the duplicate mortgages is retained by the registrar; the other, with the date of its registration endorsed thereon by the registrar, is delivered to the lender. When the mortgage is paid, a release of the same is filed with the registrar, who thereupon notes the release upon the register book, as well as upon the certificate of title. The latter is then returned to the owner, or he may surrender it to the registrar for cancellation and receive a new certificate of title containing no mention of the mortgage.

Registered owners, by deed or other instrument filed with the registrar, may create such trust as may be desired. The terms of the trust are not set forth in the certificate of title, but after the name of the trustee is inserted, the words "in trust" upon condition "or with limitation," as the case may be. No subsequent transfer or dealing can be had thereafter except upon the written opinion of at least two of the examiners of title that the proposed transfer or dealing is in accordance with the terms of the trust, condition, or limitation.

No judgment, decree, attachment, lis pendens, mechanics' lien, nor other statutory, legal, or equitable lien except taxes and special assessments, is a lien upon registered land until a certified copy of the judicial proceedings, or a copy of the instrument upon which the lien is based, is filed with the registrar, and a brief note thereof is entered by him upon the certificate of title in the register. This abolishes all general liens, and one dealing with a registered title can safely ignore any lien not entered upon the certificate of title in the register.

Provision is made for all who wish to give notice of a lien upon or claim against registered land. All such notices are entered by the registrar upon the proper certificate of title in the register book, and are thus brought directly to the attention of one proposing to deal with the registered land. Until such claims are removed, as they may be by proper proceedings provided in the act, the registrar will enter them upon all succeeding certificates of title. This protection covers every possible claim or lien, and includes a mechanics' lien, foreclosure, attachment, or any other suit affecting the land, an unregistered mortgage or other legal or equitable lien, a trust of any kind, sales for taxes or special assessments, and any other nature of claim now permitted to be asserted in any manner.

Dower is preserved in registered land, and in its first registration, as well as in all subsequent dealings, the right of dower in the husband or wife of the registered owner is recognized and protected. The same is true of the statutory right of homestead.

Upon the death of a registered owner, for the purpose of distribution of his estate, his registered lands are treated as personal property. Before transferring or otherwise dealing with the land, the executor or administrator must file with the registrar, as authority for such transfer or dealing, a certified copy of an order of the court administering upon the estate of the deceased owner. In the case of ordinary distribution among devisees or heirs, the executor or administrator, upon proper authority from the court appointing him, will apply to the registrar to have the land transferred to the devisee or heir. The sale of land for payment of debts will be conducted as heretofore. On filing in the registrar's office the deed and order of confirmation of the sale, the registrar will transfer the land to the purchaser at such sale.

The great advantages of this change in administering upon land are manifest. All questions concerning heirship, dower, and rights of creditors are thus conclusively settled at the time, and do not continue, as now, to remain for years afterwards as possible defects in a title.

It will, no doubt, be objected that great responsibility is placed upon the registrar and his legal advisers—examiners of title. It is true that at every transfer they are called upon to pass upon matter of both form and substance. But this has to be done by somebody under any system of transfer. Under our present system it is done by abstract makers and lawyers, more or less competent and trustworthy, whose labors must extend over the whole history of the title and whose conclusions bind nobody and protect nobody. If they make a mistake the purchaser may lose his money. Under the proposed system it is done by officials whose business it is to make themselves familiar with all the questions with which they have to deal. Their investigations will extend only to the transaction in hand, as at every previous transfer all questions that could arise will have been settled once for all. It will be observed that under the proposed system there will be fewer questions outside the record than under the present system, and these will be conclusively settled when the facts are fresh in mind, instead of as now left to vex the title at every transfer extending into years, when the witnesses have long since been dead. The experience of the countries which have adopted this system is that this responsibility has been intelligently and safely exercised.

The bill submitted furnishes a ready recourse to a court of equity in all cases of doubt, and for control over the acts of the registrar.

In nearly all of the countries where the Torrens system is in use an assurance fund is provided to make good any losses incurred by rightful owners in being deprived of their land through fraud or accident. This fund is usually raised by charging a small fee, usually one fifth of one per cent, upon the value of the land when first registered, and each time it afterwards passes by descent or devise. Small as such fee is, it has invariably proved to be much larger than necessary. Claims upon these assurance funds have been few and unimportant. In some of the colonies no claim whatsoever has been made upon it, and it is an open question whether such a fund is necessary.

The accompanying bill does not provide for the creation of any assurance fund, as it is doubtful whether such a fund will be necessary. For all injuries sustained by reason of the first registration, an owner may still, as now, resort to the land itself, provided he do so within five years. No fund is needed to make good such losses. As to losses sustained by registered owners through mistake or error of the registrar in affecting subsequent transfers or dealings, they are practically unknown, and do not seem to be of sufficient frequency to warrant the accumulation of such a fund.

The defects in our present system of transferring land have brought into existence in Illinois four title guaranty or title insurance companies. Each of these is the owner of a set of abstract books. Their methods provide for an examination of any title sought to be guaranteed or insured, and upon those selected as free from risk or doubt, policies of guaranty or insurance are issued on payment of a premium or rate fixed by the company. This premium or rate, in ordinary cases, when there are no defects in the title, is one per cent of the value of the land, which may be insured to its full value or less. The policy is a contract on the part of the company to defend all suits attacking the title brought against the insured, his heirs, or devisees, to the extent of the sum insured. These policies do not protect a subsequent purchaser or mortgagee, without being transferred by the issue of a new policy upon the surrender of the old one and payment of additional charges and costs fixed by the company. These policies do not cover any risk by reason of liens, conveyances, or other instruments of writing not of record at the date of the policy, nor by the rights of persons in possession not shown of record. The policies are secured by the capital of the company.

The method in use by these guarantee companies gives, no doubt, additional security to the title shown of record, but their policies contain many conditions and stipulations greatly limiting the value of the guaranty. This is necessary, as these companies in effecting such guarantees have not the aid of the statutes of limitation and rules of property contained in a registration of title act, which are so essential to the protection of the title.

These guaranty of title companies do not overcome to any great degree any of the defects or disadvantages hereinbefore shown to exist in the present system. They do not materially reduce the expense of transferring or dealing with the title, nor the necessary time involved therein. While they give the owner a guarantee which he lacked before, yet it is only against matters of record, and is limited to the face of the policy. They do nothing toward lessening the length or volume of public records, and guaranteed titles must be still dealt with through the medium of abstracts prepared from these constantly increasing volumes in the recorder's office. The guarantee of a private corporation cannot make a title conclusive or indefeasible. The issuance of such a policy can affect no adverse rights whatsoever. Neither does such a guaranty in any way rest or quiet a title. In short, the guaranty of title system as used by these companies, although in one way giving an additional security of title, nevertheless in all other respects is little or no improvement upon the old system. Such companies seem better suited for large cities, and are not likely to soon be able to aid the land-owner in smaller towns or country districts. These and similar objections to guaranty of the title companies have been found to exist in other places where such companies have been longer in existence. The very existence of those companies is a strong illustration of the necessity for a radical change in our method of dealing with titles to land.

Compared with the defects found in our present system, the proposed method of transfer by registration of title, as demonstrated by its actual workings in other countries, shows the following advantages:

1. Expense.—The cost of a first registration will not exceed, in any event, the cost of a single transfer under the present system, and will in most cases be less. The cost of all subsequent transfers is greatly reduced. The entire cost of an ordinary transfer of a piece of registered land upon a sale or mortgage will be $3.00. These charges, being fixed, are ascertainable in advance, so both seller and buyer know beforehand the expense of carrying out any sale or transfer. An ordinary transfer or mortgage of registered land is a transaction so simple in its nature that the real estate broker, or even the parties themselves, if of ordinary business intelligence, may easily carry it into effect without the aid of a lawyer.

2. Quickness.—Registered land may be sold or mortgaged and the money safely paid over within an hour or two after the making of the contract. The ownership of the property, and whether incumbered or not, is shown by the register at a glance. The certificate of title held by the owner shows the title at its date, and a certificate of search obtainable in a few minutes from the register, will show all subsequent liens. If none appear, the money is paid over, the certificate of title accompanied by the deed or mortgage is delivered to the registrar, the proper entry made upon the register, and the transfer is complete.

3. Security.—The insecurity of the present system is largely due to the fact that since upon each transfer the title must be searched back to the government, there can be no rest in such searches, and error in their making is possible. By the Torrens system the title is rested or quieted by law at each transfer, hence upon a proposed transfer no search back of the preceding transfer is necessary. This curtailing of the search greatly reduces risk of error, and all rights of the buyer to recover damages from the seller for any imperfection in the title if warranted, are fully preserved. If any purchaser, through caution, desires to satisfy himself as to the correctness of any first registration, he is permitted to examine, or have his counsel examine the abstracts and all other evidences of title upon which the registration was effected. All subsequent transfers or dealings with the registered title are matters of public record, and are also open to examination of the purchaser if he so desire. While such examinations may perhaps be made with more or less frequency during the first five years after registration, yet as the act of the registrar is final, they will be more and more infrequent until they cease altogether. Under the present system, security is dependent upon the examination made by the buyer. Under the proposed system all such security is retained; and in addition the buyer has the benefit of (1) the official examination made by the registrar before the title is registered, which can be attacked only within the limitation period; and (2) the conclusiveness given by law to the act of the registrar in registering all subsequent transfers or dealings.

4. Shortening of the records.—Under the present system, all deeds and mortgages are copied at length in the books of the recorder, and the originals returned to the owners. There is no copying of any deed or mortgage of a registered title, as the original instruments are retained by the registrar.

5. A safe method of much more quickly transferring titles at a smaller cost increases the saleable value of the property.

The accompanying bill is drawn upon the theory that the register book, composed as it is of the certificates of title issued by the registrar, shall be an authoritative list of the persons entitled to sell, mortgage, or deal as owners with the registered land situated within the county. It is a public record kept by an official under ample bond to ensure its accuracy; and if its authoritativeness be sanctioned by law, no reason is perceived why all cannot safely rely upon such accuracy. It has been most amply demonstrated in other countries that such a list can be both authoritative and accurate.

The bill herewith submitted is much shorter than any of the registration acts in use in other countries. Many details not essential in adapting the principles of those acts to the conditions in this state have been left out. The commission have endeavored to eliminate everything not necessary in effecting the desired change from the present system of recording deeds which perpetuates all defects in transfers, to that of registration of titles in which all questions that may affect the title of the purchaser are conclusively settled at the time of transfer.

Mr. Cross, chairman of the special committee appointed under house concurrent resolution No. 13, submitted the following report:—

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February —, 1893. }

Mr. President:

Your committee under house concurrent resolution No. 13, appointed to consider a plan for the acquisition by the state of Oregon of the locks on the Willamette river at Oregon City, and also to consider the use now being made and proposed of the water of the river at Willamette falls for industrial purposes, beg leave to report as follows:—

BRIEF HISTORICAL SKETCH.

The Willamette Falls Canal and Lock Company was incorporated September 14, 1868, by N. Haun, E. W. Baughman, and Samuel L. Stevens. Its authorized capital was $300,000. Its purposes was declared to be "to locate and construct a canal and suitable boat locks at the falls of the Willamette river, on the west side of said falls, so as to pass boats from lower to upper Willamette river so as to insure the speedy transit of freight and passengers up and down said Willamette river." It was specified that this canal would commence at a point on the west side of the Willamette river opposite the town of Canemah, and terminate opposite the town of Oregon City.

By supplemental articles of incorporation filed February 3, 1871, the additional objects of the corporation were declared to be to collect tolls not exceeding the amount fixed by law; to purchase, hold, sell, convey, lease, and use water power and water privileges and any personal property that said corporation may deem necessary and advantageous; also to purchase, hold, convey, etc., real estate; to build mills, factories, and houses, and manage, lease, and operate the same, etc.; to conduct water from the Willamette falls or from said canal, and to sell, lease, and dispose of the same for any useful purpose; and to build, buy, own, and operate steam-boats, etc., on the Willamette and Columbia rivers.

October 28, 1868, an act was passed granting aid to the Willamette Falls Canal and Lock Company to construct a canal and locks at the west side of the Willamette falls. This act granted to the company a subsidy of $150,000 "upon the express condition that said corporation, after the completion of said canal and locks as hereinbefore set forth, shall not for a period of ten years after the same is completed, charge a greater rate of tolls than seventy-five cents per ton for all freight, and twenty cents for each passenger passing through said canal and locks in steamboats or other water craft." By the terms of the law $100,000 were to have been expended on the work by January 1, 1870, and the whole enterprise completed by January 1, 1871. The works were not constructed under this act for the reason that the amount of aid was too small and the time for their completion too short.

This law was substantially reenacted in 1870 (see "Exhibit A" hereto attached), except that the aid given by the State was $200,000 in gold bonds bearing interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, the bonds to run ten years or less, at the option of the state, and to be paid from the fund arising from the sale of land donated to the state of Oregon by the United States for internal improvements. The limit of tolls was made fifty cents a ton for freight and ten cents for each passenger. A bond in the sum of $300,000 was required and given that the work would be completed by January 1, 1873; and the work was so completed and accepted by a board of commissioners appointed by the governor as provided in the act. These commissioners were John Whitaker, L. Brooke, and George R. Helm, and after due examination they reported that the canal and locks were "completed in all respects as required by law, and in many respects on a more extensive plan than that required by the act referred to." From the date of their completion the canal and locks were open and doing business to the great advantage of the state.

The Willamette Transportation and Locks Company was incorporated December 28, 1875, by William Strong, W. H. Effinger, and Frank T. Dodge, and it was capitalized at $1,000,000. The objects of this company were mainly the same as those of the Willamette Falls Canal and Lock Company. By a deed dated March 8, 1876, recorded in Clackamas county, the Willamette Falls Canal & Lock Company conveyed all its property, including the canal and locks on the west side of the Willamette falls, to the Willamette Transportation and Locks Company for the sum of $500,000. Supplemental articles increasing the powers of the latter corporation were filed January 8, 1877, by J. C. Ainsworth, S. G. Reed, R. R. Thompson, and B. Goldsmith.

The Portland General Electric Company was incorporated August 5, 1892, by P. F. Morey, Frederick V. Holman, and Charles H. Caufield. Its authorized capital is $4,250,000. Among the objects of this corporation are the owning and operating of the canal and locks on the west side of the Willamette falls, and the ownership, use, and control of the water power of the falls for any useful purpose. The Willamette Transportation and Locks Company, by a deed dated August 24, 1892, conveyed to the Portland General Electric Company "for and in consideration of divers good and valuable causes and considerations and one gold dollar," certain real estate "together with all and singular the canal, locks, basin, breakwater, improvements, tenements, hereditaments, and appurtenances, and all water power and riparian rights thereunto belonging or in any wise appertaining."

So the present title to the canal and locks property is in the Portland General Electric Company. However, January 1, 1887, mortgage bonds to the amount of $420,000 were issued to Elijah Smith by the Willamette Transportation and Locks Company, payable on or before January 1, 1899, and these still exist as a lien against the property.

IMPROVEMENT AND USE OF WATER POWER.

In 1889, the Willamette Transportation and Locks Company entered into contract with the Willamette Pulp and Paper Company whereby the latter obtained building sites adjoining the boat canal and the right to take water from the canal for use in manufacturing pulp and paper. The Crown Paper Company obtained similar rights in 1889. An excelsior and shoddy mill near the foot of the locks also gets its motive power from the canal. These manufacturing use about 3800 horse power on contracts running from thirty to fifty years from January 1, 1887.

Several important improvements have been made to accommodate the industries located about the falls. In order to furnish sufficient water so that the mills on the lower reach of the canal might take the water required by them in manufacturing without interfering with navigation, a reinforcing flume was constructed in 1892, leading from the basin at the head of the canal into the main canal just below the upper pulp mill. A drift wing was also constructed on the east side of the river above the falls. It consists of bent work faced with sawed timber, all firmly anchored to the rock bottom, and extends into the stream, nearly parallel with the current of the main channel, a distance of 1,000 feet. The purpose of this drift wing is to force drift wood over the main spill-way of the falls. Its cost was $10,000. Last summer a dam was built across the river near the brink of the falls. It is 2,500 feet long, is firmly fastened to the solid rock, and cost $30,000. Though its real height is but one foot above the mean low water level, its effect, by stopping the flow through numerous seams and fissures in the rocks, is to raise the water about eighteen inches higher than before the dam was constructed. This dam has greatly benefited navigation above the falls by raising the water in the river so as to overcome riffles that formerly existed in the channel a distance of about twenty-five miles above the falls to the detriment of navigation. It makes slack water where were formerly troublesome small rapids. Captains of all the steamboats plying on the upper Willamette river testify to this fact.

COST AND ANNUAL RECEIPTS.

The whole length of the canal and locks at the falls of the Willamette is 3,240 feet. The canal is 1,000 feet from the upper entrance to the first guard lock, thence to the first lift lock 1,500 feet, and at the lower end are four lift locks, each 40x210 feet and having a ten-foot lift. The canal is at no point less than forty feet wide. The engineer who had charge of the construction of the canal and locks, Captain Isaac W. Smith, of Portland, says the cost of actual construction was between $300,000 and $325,000. As nearly as can be ascertained now the cost of the right of way and incidental expenditures brought the total cost of the improvement up to about $450,000. The annual receipts from tolls during the past six years, according to reports on file in the office of the secretary of state, have been as follows:—

For the year 1887.....	$ 11,662 49
For the year 1888.....	19,771 56
For the year 1889.....	19,233 75
For the year 1890.....	15,054 93
For the year 1891.....	15,897 00
For the year 1892.....	12,871 75
	<hr/>
	$ 94,491 48

Average annual receipts from tolls.....$ 15,748 58

The ordinary annual expenditures are $2,700 for labor in operating the canal and locks and fully $1,000 for repairs. Deducting the sum of these from the average annual receipts from tolls leaves $12,048.58, which is less than two and three fourths per cent on the investment, without allowing anything for salaries of officers of the corporation. So the state has not during these years received anything from the company under the provision of law requiring ten per cent of the net proceeds arising from tolls to be paid into the common school fund of the state. The only payment made under this provision was the sum of $435 paid into the state treasury as ten per cent of the net profits for 1873. Since that time it is alleged there have been no net proceeds arising from the tolls at the locks, and consequently no payments have been made to the state.

The right of way for the canal was acquired by condemnation proceedings in the circuit court for Clackamas county, and comprised a tract of land sixty feet wide along the length of the canal.

FURTHER IMPROVEMENTS.

Several important improvements of the water power and canal are to be made the present year. The canal is to be made eighty feet wider along 1,300 feet of its length, and a solid wall of masonry is to be constructed along a reach of the canal that is now sustained by a wooden wall that is decaying and allowing much leakage. The cost of this improvement is estimated to be between $135,000 and $150,000. Its effect will be to increase the volume of water carried in the canal so that there will be an abundance for both navigation and manufacturing purposes; to make the canal wide enough so that the largest boats may pass each other in opposite directions, thus facilitating the passage of craft through the canal and locks and to provide a permanent and substantial wall along a course of the canal where there is now a comparatively frail and insecure one. Another improvement contemplated for this year is the deepening and renewing of the lowest lock so as to make it safe and convenient for the passage of boats at the lowest stage of water, it being now dangerous for large boats at that stage. The latter improvement is estimated to cost about $16,000. The widening of the canal and erection of the wall of masonry, and the renewing of the lowest lift lock, will be of great benefit to the property in the interest of navigation.

At the edge of the newly enlarged canal there will be erected this year a monster electric power station capable of generating 10,000 horse power. This will supersede the present electric power house on the east side of the falls in furnishing current to light the city of Portland and for operating electric railways between Oregon City and Portland, as well as supplying light, heat, and power for general purposes at the termini of the lines and at intermediate points. The present electric power station has a water wheel capacity of but 3175 horse power.

WATER POWER CAPACITY.

The total water power capacity of the Willamette river at the falls at Oregon City is about 56,000 horse power. This estimate is based on computations of United States engineers for the lowest stage of water during the dry season. The vertical fall is forty feet. Of the gigantic power at the falls less than 8,000 horse power is now utilized in manufacturing on both sides of the river. In order to give a better idea of the importance of the great Oregon water power comparison is here made with several others that are well known:—

Seat of power.	Horse power capacity.	Horse power used.
Oregon City, Oregon-----	56,000	8,000
Spokane, Washington-----	30,000	-----
Minneapolis, Minnesota-----	25,000	25,000
Holyoke, Massachusetts-----	24,000	16,760
Lowell, Massachusetts-----	11,845	11,845

The progress of electrical science makes possible a much greater development of the Oregon City water power than could be realized from the direct application of water for motive power, because factories may be advantageously operated by electricity transmitted some distance through wires, and are not compelled to crowd upon the margin of the water, where sites are not always easily obtained, nor the most suitable for manufacturing purposes. The great enterprise at Oregon City is a pioneer in this special line of utilizing water power. The value of Oregon City manufactures this year will be about $3,000,000.

EFFECT ON TRANSPORTATION RATES.

The transportation rates in effect on the Willamette river before the construction of the canal and locks at the falls at Oregon City are not now available. From the testimony of persons acquainted with the conditions then existing, however, it is ascertained that the building of the Oregon and California Railroad in 1870, together with the unusual competition on the river on account of the prospective opening of the stream to continuous navigation, had the effect of reducing freight rates in 1870 and 1871 to about one half what they had previously been. The circumstances seem to indicate that the reduction in freight rates was due more to competition in carrying than to the construction of the locks. But most raw materials and many manufactured articles can always be more cheaply carried by water than by rail, where ordinary conditions prevail, and the presence of the waterway in the Willamette valley has the effect of keeping freight rates much lower than they would be without this influence. And this value of the waterway as a regulator of traffic charges would be reduced or totally destroyed by any impassable barrier to continuous navigation. Hence the canal and locks at Willamette falls give the river about the same office that a wholly free channel would have. A comparison of transportation rates on grain by rail on different roads and by steamer on the river will illustrate this point.

From Salem to Portland, by steamer, distance sixty miles, the rate is eight and three fourth cents a hundred.

From Salem to Portland, by rail, distance fifty-two miles, the rate is nine cents a hundred in carload lots.

In Southern Oregon, where the river influence does not operate, from Grants Pass to Ashland, distance forty-five miles, the rate is ten cents a hundred.

The Union Pacific charges ten and one half cents a hundred for a fifty-mile haul, and before being compelled by the board of railroad commissioners to lower its rate it charged thirteen cents a hundred.

The Columbia river also carried considerable freight of this class, but the cascades and the dalles so bind that stream that it has comparatively little effect as a regulator of transportation charges.

Under the law granting a subsidy for the construction of the canal and locks at Oregon City, the state reserved the right to purchase the works at the expiration of twenty years from the date of their completion. This period expired the first of last January. If it is desired at this time to take steps toward the acquisition of the canal and locks property, we recommend the passage of senate bill No. 196, after amending section 5 so as to read as follows:—

Section 5. "That the action hereby and herein authorized to be brought, shall be instituted in the county where said canal and locks are situated."

Respectfully submitted,

H. E. CROSS,
J. H. RALEY,
JOHN GILL,
GEO. J. CURRIN,
Committee.

While concurring in the foregoing report, I, the undersigned, would recommend that the limit fixed in section 10 of senate bill No. 196, whereby a sum not exceeding $200,000 is appropriated to accomplish the purposes of the act be removed. It would seem to me to be little less than farcical for the state to go to the expense of prosecuting an action in the courts without being prepared to act upon the results of the suit. The incidental expenses of carrying into effect the provisions of this act would be considerable, leaving the sum to be applied to the actual purchase of the canal and locks property materially reduced from $200,000. This amount might be less than the value of the canal and locks as determined by the courts, and the board of canal commissioners would then be powerless to act under this law, and the expense incurred in arriving at this unsatisfactory result would simply be the waste of so much money. I favor the removal of this limitation to the action of the board of canal commissioners.

Respectfully submitted,

H. E. CROSS.

From the best information we are able to obtain, we desire to report that in our opinion the state of Oregon should not purchase the said canal and locks at this time for the following reasons: In our opinion, it would be a useless expenditure of money and would not avail the state enough to warrant the purchase of the same; neither can we recommend the plan of purchase as indicated by senate bill No. 196.

L. H. RUSSELL.

EXHIBIT A.

An act to appropriate funds for the construction of a steamboat canal at the Willamette falls.

Whereas the Willamette Falls Canal and Lock Company was duly incorporated under the laws of Oregon on the fourteenth day of September, 1868, for the purpose of constructing a canal and locks at and on the west side of the Willamette falls; and whereas it is of great importance to the people of Oregon that the obstructions to free navigation of the Willamette river at that place should be removed and freights carried on said river should be cheapened; therefore,

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon:

Section 1. That the state of Oregon hereby agrees and pledges its faith to pay the Willamette Falls Canal and Lock Company the sum of money, in gold coin, as hereinafter set forth, out of the funds donated by the United States to the state of Oregon for internal improvements.

Section 2. In order to entitle the said corporation to receive the sum of money hereby agreed to be paid, it shall be the duty of said corporation to construct a canal and locks at and on the west side of the Willamette falls; the said locks to be not less than one hundred and sixty feet in length, and forty feet in width, and to be constructed chiefly of stone, cement, and iron, and otherwise built in a durable and permanent manner; the said canal and locks to be completed on or before the first day of January, 1873. And after the completion of the same, the said corporation shall pass without delay through the said canal and locks, all steamboats, flatboats, barges, and other water craft, in the order in which they shall arrive at either terminus of said canal.

Section 3. The state of Oregon agrees to pay the said sum of money upon the express condition that the said corporation, after the completion of the said canal and locks, as hereinafter set forth, shall not charge a greater rate of tolls than fifty cents per ton for freight, and ten cents for each passenger going through said canal and locks in steamboats or other water craft. And at the expiration of twenty years from the time said canal and locks are completed, the state of Oregon shall have the right and privilege to take and appropriate to its own use forever the said canal and locks, upon the payment to the said corporation the actual value thereof at the time of taking and appropriating the same, which value shall be ascertained in such manner as the legislative assembly of Oregon may hereafter prescribe.

Section 4. Within ninety days after the approval of this act, the Willamette Falls Canal and Lock Company shall execute and deliver to the secretary of state a good and sufficient bond, with sureties, payable to the state of Oregon, in the sum of three hundred thousand dollars, in gold coin of the United States, said bonds to be approved by the governor of this state, conditioned that the said company shall, on or before the first day of January, 1873, construct and complete said canal and locks, in accordance with the provisions of this act. Upon the delivery and approval of said bond, the governor and secretary of state shall issue and deliver to the said Willamette Falls Canal and Lock Company gold bonds of the state of Oregon for the sum of two hundred thousand dollars, in bonds of five hundred dollars each, payable to said canal and lock company, or its legal assigns, in ten years or sooner, at the option of the state, bearing interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable semi-annually in gold. Principal and interest of said bonds shall be paid out of the fund arising from the five per centum of the net proceeds of the sale of the public lands of the United States lying within this state, or out of the fund arising out of the sale of the five hundred thousand acres of land donated to the state of Oregon by act of congress for the purpose of internal improvements, and not otherwise, or from both of said funds, and not otherwise.

Section 5. The faith of the state of Oregon is hereby pledged so to administer said funds as to make them available at the earliest period for the payment of said bonds by this act authorized to be issued, upon the express condition that said corporation shall construct said canal and locks in the manner before provided in this act, and not charge a greater rate of tolls than is herein set forth. And it is further provided that the issuance and payment of said bonds shall be made upon the express condition that said corporation shall pay to the state of Oregon ten per centum of the net profits arising from the tolls collected from passing freights and passengers through said canal and locks, which sum of ten per centum of net profits shall be paid into the common school fund of this state.

Section 6. The said canal and lock company shall be required to fully complete said canal and locks, according to the requirements of this act, on or before the first day of January, 1873; and if the above condition is not complied with, the bonds required by this act to be given by said corporation to the state of Oregon shall be deemed to be forfeited and broken, and all the rights given to said company by the state under this act shall be deemed forfeited.

Section 7. Upon the completion of the said canal and locks, the governor shall appoint three commissioners to examine the works and report thereon; and if, from the report of said commissioners, or a majority of them, the works are declared to be completed as hereinbefore specified, then said corporation shall be discharged from all liability on its bond executed to the state of Oregon.

Section 8. The sum of fifty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the treasury belonging to said funds hereinbefore specified, to be applied in payment of the interest on said bonds, and in payment of the principal of said bonds as far as the same shall extend.

Section 9. In case the state of Oregon shall at any time take possession of said canal and locks as provided in this act, the said sum of two hundred thousand dollars shall be paid into the common school fund of this state by the state of Oregon.

Approved October 21, 1870.

SENATE BILL NO. 196.

Introduced by Mr. Weatherford, and read first time January 30, 1893.

A bill for an act to authorize the state of Oregon, through its board of canal commissioners, to take and appropriate to its own use the Willamette falls and locks, to ascertain their value, to pay for and operate the same, to regulate the rates of toll, and to exercise all the necessary supervision and control over the same in all manner necessary to the procurement of their full earning revenue, to sue for and condemn private or any property for all purposes necessary in any way connected therewith, to charge and collect tolls for freight and passengers passing through the same, and to appropriate money therefor.

Be it enacted by the Legislative assembly of the State of Oregon :

Section 1. That the governor, secretary of state, and state treasurer of the state of Oregon, and their successors in office, constituting and comprising the board of canal commissioners, shall have full power and authority to do and perform all the acts and things hereinafter mentioned for and in the name of and on behalf of the state of Oregon.

Section 2. That the board of canal commissioners shall, immediately after the taking effect of this act, or as soon thereafter as may be practicable, ascertain the value of the Willamette falls canal and locks, constructed pursuant to an act of the legislative assembly of the state of Oregon, entitled "An act to appropriate funds for the construction of a steamboat canal at Willamette falls," approved October 21, 1870, as follows: They shall ascertain the amounts received during the year 1892 from tonnage and passenger traffic by the Willamette Falls Canal and Lock Company, or any person, corporation, or firm claiming under such corporation, deducting therefrom the expense of their operation, as well as the amount necessary, if any, to put them in complete repair and running order, and thereupon the said board shall pay to the present owner or owners of the said canal and locks as payment in full such sum of money which at six per cent interest would bring the net amount ascertained to be remaining from the calculation above described.

Section 3. That thereupon the said board of canal commissioners shall take possession and charge of the Willamette falls canal and locks, and shall control and operate the same.

Section 4. That if the said Willamette Falls Canal and Lock Company, or any person, firm, or corporation claiming title to said Willamette falls canal and locks, shall refuse to accept the sum ascertained as the value thereof as herein prescribed, and shall refuse to surrender the possession thereof to the said board of canal commissioners upon the tender of said sum so ascertained, then and in that event the said board of canal commissioners are authorized and directed immediately thereafter, for and on behalf of the state, and in its name, to condemn by suit or action, the said Willamette falls canal and locks, together with so much lateral space on each side thereof as may be necessary or convenient for their convenient and proper maintenance, use, and operation the whole length of said canal, in the same way and manner as is now provided by the laws of this state for the condemnation of land and rights of way by other corporations for public use, and the compensation ascertained and paid in the same way and manner as is now provided by law in condemnation proceedings, except that the compensation so ascertained to be paid is to be paid by a deposit in court of an order duly drawn upon the state treasurer for the amount of such compensation.

Section 5. That the action hereby and herein authorized to be brought may be instituted in any circuit court in the state which the said board of commissioners may elect.

Section 6. That the said board of canal commissioners shall, as soon as possession thereof is obtained, use and exercise control of the said Willamette falls canal and locks for and in behalf of the state, and shall have the right and it shall be their duty to fix tolls for traffic through said canal and locks, and if not incompatible with the best interests of the state to so fix said rates of toll as to realize a sufficient revenue to pay a reasonable rate of interest on the amount invested therein, the operating expenses, and the necessary cost of keeping said canal and locks in good repair.

Section 7. That the board of canal commissioners shall have authority to lease to any incorporated city, person, or corporation, for any purpose they may desire, the privilege of using any water power controlled by said canal and locks, or appertaining or belonging thereto at a fair and reasonable compensation, for such time as they may deem best, not exceeding ten years.

Section 8. That the board shall have the power to appoint a superintendent of the said canal and locks, and fix his compensation, shall have power to authorize him to employ the necessary help, and shall require of such superintendent good and sufficient bonds for the faithful performance of duty.

Section 9. That the board shall have authority to institute in behalf of the state and in its name any action, suit, or proceeding against any person, firm, or corporation infringing on the rights of the state pertaining to said canal and locks, or for any other purpose necessary to protect the rights and interests of the state in and about the premises.

Section 10. That there be and is hereby appropriated out of the general fund for the uses and purposes aforesaid, the sum of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000), and the secretary of state is hereby authorized to draw warrants on the treasurer for the said sum or any part thereof.

Section 11. Inasmuch as the public interest and welfare of the state urgently demand that the state shall control the navigation of the waters of the Willamette river, this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its approval by the governor.

On motion of Mr. Butler, five hundred copies of the report were ordered printed.

By unanimous consent, Mr. Blackman, by request, introduced senate joint resolution No. 11.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 11.

Whereas the Oregon pioneer association of this state, composed of its early settlers, deriving its sole revenues from contributions of its members, after a corporate existence of about twenty-one years, finds its treasury depleted and its membership so diminished by death as to be unable to print the proceedings of its annual reunions of 1891 and 1892; whereas said proceedings contain much valuable historical matter concerning the early history of our state; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, the House concurring, That the sum of five hundred dollars ($500) be appropriated from the general fund for the use and benefit of said Oregon pioneer association in printing the proceedings of their annual reunions of 1891 and 1892; provided, that no part thereof shall be used in the payment of salaries of its officers, or for other purposes than that herein mentioned.

Section 2. That section 2119 of chapter IX. of Hill's annotated laws of Oregon be amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 2119. An appeal is taken by serving a notice thereof on the adverse party, or his attorney, or any other person appearing for him, of record in said cause, and filing the original with the

Such notice shall state that the appellant appeals from the judgment or decree of the circuit court, or some specified part thereof, and in case the judgment be one rendered in an action at law, shall specify the grounds of error with reasonable certainty upon which the appellant intends to rely upon the appeal, but in case the appeal be from a decree, it shall not be necessary to specify any such grounds of error.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

STATE OF OREGON, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
SALEM, Oregon, }
February 9, 1893. }

To the Honorable the House of Representatives of the State of Oregon :
I herewith return house bill No. 233 with my dissent. This bill provides for the payment out of the state treasury of the sum of twenty thousand dollars a year for two years to the military board in addition to the amount raised for the state militia through the now existing tax of one fifth of a mill upon all of the property of the state. The amount of the assessable property in the state, as returned by the state equalization board, is now $228,398,677. A tax of one fifth of a mill on this amount would bring annually $45,679. Add to this amount the $20,000 given to the militia by this bill, and we have an annual total of $65,679. As the amount expended by the state militia annually for the last biennial term was $32,778, it will be seen that it is proposed to double the amount heretofore expended. Our constitution provides that the "military shall be kept in strict subordination to the civil power," but it would seem that now the military is in the saddle, as it has had sufficient potency to procure a largely increased appropriation in the passage of this bill at a time when a retrenchment in all civil departments is sought after on account of the depressed condition of our people, consequent upon the stagnation of business and a general decline in prices, values, and volume of currency. This is most decidedly wrong.

Now, when the greatly overburdened taxpayer is demanding relief, the military as well as the civil branch of government must begin to practice retrenchment. Retrenchment must be made all along the line. I veto the bill.

SYLVESTER PENNOYER,
Governor.

Mr. Bancroft moved that the rules be suspended and that consideration of house bill No. 233 and the governor's message be made the special order for tomorrow at 11 o'clock A. M.

On this question the roll was called and the vote was:

Those voting aye were:

Messrs. Alley, Bancroft, Blackman, Butler, Cameron, Cogswell, Crosno, Denny, Dodson, Gates, Hirsch, Matlock, Maxwell, McAlister, Myers, Smith, Willis, Woodard, and Mr. President—19.

Nays—Messrs. Huston, Vanderburg, Veatch, and Weatherford—6.

Absent—Messrs. Beckley, Cross, Hayes, Looney, McGinn, Raley, and Steiwer—7.

So the rules were suspended and house bill No. 233 was made the special order for 11 o'clock A. M. tomorrow.

And the same are herewith returned to you.

D. C. SHERMAN,
Chief clerk.

Mr. Gates, chairman of the committee appointed under senate concurrent resolution No. 8, to investigate the management of the Oregon insane asylum, submitted the following report:—

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February —, 1893. }

Mr. President:

Your joint committee, appointed under senate concurrent resolution No. 8, to examine into the condition of the Oregon state insane asylum, report that the duty assigned them has been discharged, and we find:—

1. That the patients are supplied with all things necessary for their comfort; the food furnished the inmates is wholesome and abundant; great care and attention is paid to their personal cleanliness; the wards are kept in a cleanly condition, with as perfect sanitary and hygienic surroundings as possible under all circumstances. In all departments a most thorough fire system is in vogue and active operation, that would prove very effective in saving life and property in case of a conflagration. All attendants are gentlemanly and ladylike in their deportment, and we believe the patients are treated with the greatest kindness and consideration at their hands. The grounds are kept in perfect order; the barns, stables, hoggeries, and other outbuildings are kept clean and show that great care is exercised by those having them in charge. A large infirmary is now under course of construction that will prove highly beneficial in case of contagious diseases among the inmates of the asylum. This infirmary is built at a point high and rolling, so as to render it free from all contaminating influences. Through the asylum the state is the owner of 1,020 acres of good land and a good class of buildings. There are at present 828 inmates in the asylum. The cost of maintaining the institution the past two years was $209,889.45. The per capita per month for the last two years was $12.16, being the lowest figure the state has yet been able to attain for keeping her insane.

2. A thorough investigation of the books and accounts of the institution has been made by a competent person, and in every particular they have been found to be correct and self-explanatory. The book-keeper is gentlemanly and obliging, kindly lending his aid and assistance in every way possible in expediting the examination of the accounts. In the opinion of the committee a more thorough, systematic, and correct method of auditing and keeping accounts could not be inaugurated than that in operation at the asylum.

And your committee would further report that they have thoroughly investigated charges made against the management of the asylum by certain parties, which charges, if true, would have proven condemnatory to the management and left a stain upon the fair name of the state of Oregon. These charges were:—

1. That the general management was not good.
2. That there was gross negligence and carelessness in handling the keys.
3. That the family of Jay Smith, the book-keeper, was kept at the expense of the state.
4. That Rumley, a discharged patient, had been illegally held as an inmate.
5. That Huntley, an employé, through negligence, was allowed improper privileges with a female patient.
6. That numerous female patients were pregnant through improper relations with attendants.
7. That Jay Smith paid J. Hastings money in order to have certain shortcomings of his (Smith's) covered up.
8. That Miss Lydia Roblin had aided in an illicit conspiracy and should be condemned.

On each of the foregoing propositions the committee, at regular stated sessions, has called witnesses, each and all of whom responded except one, (Mrs. Hastings, who said she knew nothing of the case for which she was subpoenaed), and from the sworn evidence of the several witnesses called, we find:—

1. That the present management of the Oregon state insane asylum is equal to any of the former administrations, and superior to many similar institutions in older states.
2. That the system of keeping the keys is the best now known throughout the country (according to numerous answers to letters of inquiry on this point, shown us from superintendents of asylums from all parts of the United States), and that the utmost care and vigilance is exercised to see that the keys are placed only in proper hands.
3. That as the second assistant physician is a single man, Jay Smith occupies his cottage, and that all the provisions for his family are bought of Salem dealers, separate and apart from provisions furnished the asylum.
4. That Mr. Rumley was not discharged from the asylum at the time he claims he was, but was out simply on a written parole in order to enable him to secure work on the outside, as is the custom and provided rule at the asylum here as elsewhere.
5. That Huntley did gain admittance to one of the female wards by passing a key through the grates of the guard from the outside; that the guard was unlocked by the said female inmate, and he was let in through the window; that he was discovered under the bed in a few moments, and before he had carried out his supposed purpose, taken from the room; his keys were taken from him and he was turned out of the building, since which time he has not been seen about the asylum; and that this occurred despite the fact that the utmost diligence and caution were exercised in these particulars, and in nowise reflect on the care and efficiency of the management, and could as readily have happened under any previous administration.

6. That the report that female patients were or are enceinte is false and without foundation of fact, there being absolutely no evidence or suspicion pointing in that direction.

7. That Jay Smith never paid Jay Hastings one cent for any purpose.

8. That the report that Miss Lydia Roblin knowingly gave her assistance in aiding an illicit meeting of parties is not true, and that the said report was not only an injustice but an injury to the young lady. That from all the evidence adduced we believe her to be a virtuous, chaste, and moral woman, and that she should be fully exonerated from all the charges made; and we would recommend that Miss Roblin be reinstated into the position which she held at the time the charges were made, and that those who made the charges and caused them to be published be severely censured.

And, in conclusion, your committee would earnestly deprecate the spirit prompting any man, or set of men, in aiding the circulation of rumors calculated to do injury to persons entrusted with highly responsible state duties, and worse still, procure a feeling of unrest and uncertainty among the citizens and taxpayers as to the protection and care afforded the unfortunate insane, without anything approaching reasonable evidence on which to base such rumors; and we take pleasure in giving this assurance, that the management of the Oregon state insane asylum is in perfectly trustworthy hands.

Hereto is appended a financial exhibit of the expenses of the asylum for the two years ending November 30, 1892:—

P. P. GATES,
J. H. RALEY,
Committee on part of senate.
W. R. BISHOP,
S. B. ORMSBY,
J. J. HOUCK,
Committee on part of house.

Mr. Myers, chairman of the special committee, to whom was referred senate bill No. 75, submitted the following report:—

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February —, 1893. }

Mr. President:

Your special committee, to whom was referred senate bill No. 75, beg leave to report that we have had the same under consideration, and respectfully report it back to the senate with our disapproval.

We are of the opinion that the bill is unfair to women, in that it would place them at a disadvantage in the matter of gaining a livelihood. Other merely than chivalrous reasons argue against such a law as is proposed in this bill.

The clerical service required by many of the legislative committees is such that women may perform it as efficiently as men. To discriminate against them is in the highest degree unmanly and contrary to the spirit of the age and the genius of our institutions. When for any reason men may give better service, the discretion of the employing power should be exercised in the interest of the state in obtaining such better service.

Abuses in the matter of legislative clerkships reach to both men and women employed in clerical positions. If there be any special objection to women, the members of the legislature are themselves responsible for it. To prohibit the employment of women will by no means remedy whatever evil may exist. As long as clerical positions shall be given by the legislators as sinecures, for reasons other than pertaining to efficiency of service, so long will there be objectionable features attending the clerkship business. It may truthfully be asserted that the women are in nowise less faithful than the men in the performance of clerical duties, nor do they come less well qualified for the services required. The incompetent clerks include fully as many men as women. We do not think it would in any degree reform the service to rule out of it honest, faithful, and competent women. All other kinds, both women and men, should be kept out as a matter of principle and common sense. If members of the legislature do not exercise common sense in this matter, we see no reason for wreaking vengeance upon honest and capable women who toil for their bread. It would be selfish, unbecoming, undignified, unmanly, unjust, thus to bar good women from this field of honorable endeavor because legislators sometimes employ clerks who do not reflect credit upon the service.

In the opinion of your committee there would be less objection to the provisions of the bill prohibiting the employment of near relatives of legislators to committee clerkships. Still, every regulation of this kind is a reflection on the good sense of all the members, and therefore we disapprove it. The efficiency and good repute of the clerical services of the legislature depends upon the members of the legislature themselves and will not be reached by the adoption of laws prescribing the age, sex, or condition of those who may engage in service.

Therefore, we recommend that senate bill No. 75 do not pass.

JEFF MYERS,
Chairman.

On motion of Mr. Willis, senate bill No. 75 was ordered engrossed and to third reading tomorrow.

On motion of Mr. McGinn, the courtesies of the senate were extended to Hon. Henry Failing, and he was invited to a seat within the bar of the senate.

Mr. McGinn, chairman of the joint committee appointed under senate concurrent resolution No. 4, submitted the following report:—

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER, }
SALEM, Oregon, }
February 3, 1893. }

Mr. President:

Your joint committee, appointed to visit the Oregon state university, respectfully submit the following report:

We have visited the university located at Eugene, Oregon, and examined into the workings of the various departments as thoroughly as the limited time at our disposal would permit, and do not hesitate to report that the university is an institution of learning of which the state of Oregon may well be proud. It is an institution of learning calculated to mature and fit the minds of young men and women of our state with the highest educational attainments of a thorough collegiate course, and there is evidence on every hand to show that the managers of the university are working to that end, and doing so very successfully.

We find the grounds and buildings and the rooms therein of the university to be neatly kept, and the classes all conducted in a very systematic manner. We were kindly shown through the museum by Professor Condon, which we soon realized to be one of the best collections of specimens in the state. The university is in need of a fire proof building for the museum, as the specimens therein are of immense value, and in case of fire would be an irreparable loss to the state. The university has a well selected library, but is in need of more room to meet the additions which are being made each year. We believe that appropriations made at the last session of the legislature for repairs of buildings, etc., have been wisely and judiciously expended.

The number of students we find to be nearly the same as reported at the last session of the legislature. While the university is in a prosperous condition, we realize that the increase in the number of students is not as great as many may expect. The cause of this we believe to be due, not to the lack of any diligence or effort on the part of the managers of the institution, but owing to the fact that other institutions of learning in this state have dormitories, thus being able to furnish the students room and board much cheaper than can be obtained under the present circumstances at Eugene, and that this condition of affairs has occurred during the past two years, and thus places this institution at a great disadvantage.

We believe the people of this state are anxious to have the beneficial influence of this institution extended to as great a number as possible, and believing that a dormitory to accommodate young men and women with cheap living is essential to that end, we therefore recommend that the sum of $25,000 be appropriated by this session of the legislature for that purpose, that being the estimated cost thereof, and that the same be thus expended under the supervision of the board of regents.

H. E. MCGINN,
Senate committee.
H. W. LAMSON,
O. C. BROWN,
W. R. KING,
House committee.

On motion of Mr. McGinn, the report was referred to the committee on ways and means.

Mr. McGinn, chairman of the joint committee appointed to visit state normal school at Monmouth, submitted the following report:—

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 2, 1893. }

Mr. President:

Your committee appointed to visit the state normal school at Monmouth, Oregon, beg leave to submit the following report:

We, in company with many honorable members of both the house and senate, visited the above institution. We desire to acknowledge our appreciation of the kind, courteous, and generous manner in which we were received at said institution. We spent the two hours' time at our disposal while there in an examination of the various departments and workings of the Oregon state normal school at Monmouth, Oregon. The faculty and students are earnest and enthusiastic in their work, and we were especially impressed with the diligence which seemed to pervade every department.

The Oregon state normal school is an institution of learning calculated to train and fit the minds of young men and women of our state for teachers. To that end, we believe, the institution to be working with great success. The present scholastic year is a very prosperous one, there being in attendance 370 students.

The normal school needs additional buildings to accommodate the rapidly increasing number of students, which is evident will continue during the next two years as it has during the past two years.

Respectfully submitted.

W. F. MATLOCK,

SENATE JOINT MEMORIAL NO. 3.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled: Your memorialists, the legislature of the state of Oregon, most respectfully represent:

Whereas the people of this nation are arousing themselves to a realization of the fact that the methods of constructing and maintaining roads and highways have in no sense kept pace with the progress made by all other public institutions, but in most states and territories of the union the methods of road construction and maintenance now in vogue are no better than the methods pursued in the old New England colonies more than a century ago; and whereas the rapid construction of railroads has accomplished in opening up for civilization and settlement vast areas of our public domain, thereby emphasizing the great need of more public roads of an improved character; therefore

Resolved, That our senators and representatives in congress be hereby requested to urge upon congress the establishment, in the city of Washington, in the District of Columbia, a road department similar to the agricultural department, for the purpose of promoting knowledge in the art of constructing and maintaining roads, and that in connection with this road department there be established a permanent exhibit illustrating various methods of road construction, and also the best road materials and machinery; and be it further

Resolved, That our senators and representatives in congress be also hereby requested to urge that proper provision be made to establish in every agricultural college receiving support from the federal government a department of instruction devoted to road engineering, so that there may be most speedily disseminated throughout the nation an accurate and scientific knowledge of the most improved methods of road construction, and thereby resulting naturally in greatly improved roads and highways in all states and territories, and your memorialists will ever pray.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon, }
February 15, 1893. }

Mr. President:

Your committee appointed under house concurrent resolution No. 2, to examine the books and accounts of the state treasurer's office, having performed said duty, beg to report as follows:

As authorized by your resolution, we employed expert accountants, who, under our direction and such personal supervision as our legislative duties enabled us to give to the investigation, have proceeded as follows: Every receipt given by the treasurer in the past two fiscal years, duplicates of which are filed with the secretary of state, has been compared with the entry in the cash book, and all moneys received by him found to be correctly recorded and accounted for. The total receipts to each fund are given in the treasurer's report and are found correct. Each and every payment made during the past two years is found to have been made in accordance with law, on warrants of the secretary of state, and correctly charged to the proper fund, the condition of which is accurately set forth in the printed report. The warrant for each disbursement has been compared with the books and report, which have been found to agree; and the footings of the various funds are found to be correct. Our accountants have examined in detail every note and mortgage in the common school fund, university fund, and agricultural college fund, and have compared the endorsements of interest on each note and statement of principal received, with the amounts as set forth in the treasurer's report and the corresponding entry in the cash book, and verified the correctness of every such entry. We have personally inspected the securities deposited by the various foreign insurance and express companies, to the amount of two million seven hundred and ten thousand dollars, and find the same as reported by the treasurer. We have examined the books and records of the office, and are pleased to report their neatness and accuracy. Many of the details of the system of accounts have been elaborated by the present treasurer so as to increase the facility of reference and eliminate the possibility of error. Our investigations have been facilitated by the courtesy and willingness of the treasurer and his assistants to furnish all information and documents needed to make our scrutiny complete and exhaustive.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

EDWARD HIRSCH,
JEFF MYERS,
Senate committee.
J. A. WRIGHT,
JOHN G. WRIGHT,

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 17, 1893. }

Mr. President:

Your committee, appointed under senate concurrent resolution No. 4, to examine the books and accounts of the board of commissioners for the sale of school and university lands, have completed our labor, and beg leave to report as follows:

We have, with the assistance of competent accountants, pursued our investigation in as thorough a manner as the time at our disposal would permit.

The accounts for the land sold have been carefully compared with the entries in the cashbook and also with endorsements on the notes given for deferred payments, and the entries for cash sales with the consideration named in the deeds. We have carefully added all the columns of entries in the cashbook and compared the totals with entries in the ledger, and the credits in the ledger with the state treasurer's receipts and these with the duplicates on file in the office of the secretary of state. We have found the cash accounts absolutely correct, and all moneys accounted for; the papers and records neatly kept and systematically arranged; the clerical work of said office exceedingly well performed, and the system of accounts and general manner of conducting the business of the office to be plain, complete, and comprehensive, reflecting credit upon Mr. Geo. W. Davis, clerk of the board.

The old school land tractbooks we find in a bad condition, from the following facts:

First—The forms of the books are not suitable for the present improved and complete system of records of the office.

Second—The books were opened and arranged in an improper and an irregular manner by Thomas H. Cann, and in such a manner as to make it impossible to entirely remedy the defective and imperfect arrangement without completely rewriting the books.

Third—The entries have completely filled all the available entry space, and as a result accounts have been carried forward to other pages, creating much confusion and a tendency to mistakes.

We would, therefore, recommend that a sufficient sum be added to the usual amount appropriated for the expenses of the office to provide for the making of a complete set of new tractbooks for the office.

At the earnest request of the chairman of the committee, we have carefully examined the applications for the sale of state selections of indemnity school lands, and have found these selections based on valid applications filed in compliance with the law regulating the same.

W. W. STEIWER,
Chairman.

On motion of Mr. Steiwer, the report was adopted.

Mr. President:

Your committee on public lands, to whom was referred the communication from Hon. J. N. Dolph under date of January 25, 1893, addressed to the president of the senate, beg leave to report that they have had the same under consideration, and recommend that the following joint memorial be adopted:—

SENATE JOINT MEMORIAL NO. 4.

Whereas we fully endorse the policy of establishing timber reserves under the act of March 3, 1891, for the maintenance and protection of our great forests and the consequent preservation of our water sources; and whereas the entire crest of the Cascade mountains in Oregon is heavily timbered and contains the sources of our principal rivers and small streams, and upon the preservation of such timber will largely depend our future water supply and the state's general welfare; and whereas it has come to our knowledge that a petition sometime since was addressed to the president asking the withdrawal of the entire crest of the Cascade mountains in Oregon as a timber reserve, and subsequently another petition was sent him praying for the immediate establishment of two portions of said crest, viz., Mt. Hood and Crater Lake, with convenient territory about each, as timber reservations, and further asking that such reservations be enlarged and extended so as to include the said entire crest, as soon as the boundaries of the latter could be ascertained and fixed with due regard to the rights of any settlers or other interests entitled to be heard; and whereas we are in full accord with said petitions, and desire, and the public interests demand, the immediate establishment of said two reservations, and also their enlargement and extension so as to include said entire crest as soon as the latter can safely be accomplished; now, therefore,

The Legislature of the State of Oregon memorialize the President and urge,— First, the immediate establishment of two reservations, viz., one of Mt. Hood, to be called Mt. Hood reserve, and the other of Crater Lake, to be called Crater Lake reserve, with such contiguous territory about each as shall seem proper; second, the enlargement and extension of each said reservation so as to include the entire crest of the Cascade mountains in Oregon, with a convenient space on each side thereof, just as soon as the same can be intelligently done after a prompt but careful investigation by the interior department of any vested rights there may be in such territory. And to the above ends, the secretary of state is requested to at once forward a copy hereof to the secretary of the interior, and also a copy each to our senators and representatives in congress.

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 7, 1893. }

To the Honorable Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon: We, your committee, appointed under house concurrent resolution No. 24, beg leave to report the following:—

We were unable to obtain any chemical analysis of the water, and therefore cannot positively state its medicinal qualities, but from such information as we could obtain from the physicians and residents of the town of Sodaville, we believe that the water of said springs is highly beneficial as a medicinal water for certain neurotic conditions of the human system.

The springs and land surrounding them contain about one acre, and from such data as were obtainable from observation and otherwise, the committee would suggest that some improvements would materially increase the value of said springs, both in the way of making them more attractive to visitors, and also in the way of affording better protection to the same. We would, therefore, recommend that a neat fence be built around the same, also a tank to enclose the springs, in order that the waters of said springs may be kept pure and healthful.

Mr. Crosno, chairman of the joint committee appointed to investigate the reform school and school for the blind, submitted the following report:—

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February —, 1893. }

To the Honorable the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Oregon—GENTLEMEN: We, the undersigned members of your joint committee, to whom was assigned the duties of visiting the state reform school and the state school for the blind, and examining the reports and books of the same; the reports and recommendations made by the state board of education relative to the same; the recommendations made by the state superintendent of public instruction in the tenth biennial report; the series of record books and blanks prepared for the use of the public schools, and other books of record in the department of public instruction, beg leave to report as follows:—

STATE REFORM SCHOOL.

We made a pleasant visit to this school and inspected all departments of the same.

BENEFITS OF THE SCHOOL.

The question may be asked as to the results of the school and what proportion of the boys committed may be benefited by the discipline and instruction of the institution. According to the statistics of reform schools in other states, a large percentage of those committed to the school are quite destitute at the time of their commitment, either of a knowledge of books or of any useful labor; and there are obvious reasons for this, as for the most part boys sent to the reform school are from cities and towns where they have become demoralized, incorrigible, and therefore unmanageable at home or at school. The results of other schools show that most of the boys sent to a reformatory gain a sufficient amount of book learning to enable them to transact the ordinary business of life. Necessarily only the worst boys, as a rule, are sent to the reform schools; such schools are not intended for good boys, and, as a rule, very few good boys are sent to such institutions. There is no question as to the utility of such a school, as in such places the bad boys are under constant supervision, a curb is placed upon the tongue given to profanity and vulgarity, and all reading matter of an improper character is excluded. Every effort is made to reform evil and encourage what is right.

INDUSTRIAL TRAINING.

It is the intention of the board of trustees to establish workshops for the boys as soon as the same may be practicable. So far, the boys have been taught tailoring and shoemaking to some extent; also some farm and garden work, and this, in addition to the work they do in the laundry, kitchen, dining-room, sleeping-rooms, etc., and as we understand, the major portion of the work inside the house is done by the boys under proper supervision. It necessarily follows that the farm work and garden work will be largely increased as the school becomes older and better organized. Regularly established industrial training is a much needed department, the necessity for which grows more apparent every day, a department that would add great efficiency to the school and do much towards dispelling bad citizenship, the bane of every state. All persons must agree that one of the means of a reform school, and one of the chief means at that, is to teach industry. Where industry takes the place of idleness, the mind is so occupied that there is little time for vicious thoughts and actions. The boys are impressed with the great and wholesome truth that it is manly to labor, that it is manly to be self sustaining, that it is manly to be independent. The principle of industry cannot be fully taught or demonstrated without means—diversified means—and opportunities to make them skilled workmen while in school.

The boy who has taken a course in an industrial department, will, when he is discharged, become a useful citizen and a skilled mechanic at good living wages. The present facilities of the school afford no such opportunities. As a rule, and for obvious reasons, it follows that boys who have been raised in idleness and mischief in our towns and cities, and who have been sent to reform schools, will not take kindly to farming or gardening, but will more readily learn trades. We should remember that the principal object of a state reform school is to reform the boys sent to it. When this is done, and the boys have been given a good common school education, together with the opportunity for learning a good trade, they have, as a rule, prepared themselves for a start in life. We, therefore, most heartily recommend the plan proposed by the board of trustees for establishing a regular industrial training department.

MILITARY TRAINING.

It is the expectation of the authorities of the school to introduce some military training, and this may become a valuable aid, inculcating habits of obedience and securing for the pupils a manly carriage and deportment.

LIBRARY.

A library should be established and the boys supplied with interesting and instructive books. We understand that some books have already been purchased and others have been donated for the use of the inmates.

SANITARY CONDITIONS.

The sanitary condition of the school is good. Systematic living, regular hours for meals, sleep, recreation, etc., all conduce to good health. The facilities for bathing will necessarily be extended when new buildings are erected. According to the report of the trustees of the school, the demands upon this institution have been great from the very beginning. The school has been crowded beyond its utmost capacity since October 1, 1892, so much so, that for the health and comfort of the officers, employés, and inmates, the board of trustees were compelled to issue an order to all proper officers in this state notifying them that no more boys could be received and provided for until additional accommodations were provided by the legislature. In the opinion of the committee, the work that the state has here undertaken to reform the vicious and youthful classes of our state is one of the noblest, and the results of the same must, in the future, be very remunerative and satisfactory to all concerned. The object of this school is to protect the helpless, and train the incorrigible to obedience, and to reform those who have wandered from the right way, by education, by wholesome restraint, by moral influences, and by the formation of industrious habits.

STATISTICS OF STATE REFORM SCHOOL.

Amount of land purchased, 377.86 acres, at a cost of	$12,706 05
Surveying the same	237 50
Total cost of land	$12,943 55
Expended on buildings	32,408 70
Expended on improvement of grounds, auxiliary buildings, etc.	1,947 75
Total	$47,300 00

The foregoing sum was expended during the biennial term ending December 31, 1890, of which $30,000 was met by the appropriation of 1889, the remainder, $17,300, a deficit, being covered by an appropriation during the legislative term of 1891.

During the biennial term ending December 31, 1892, the expenditures were:—

Buildings and improvements.....	$13,289 67
House furnishings.....	5,997 44
Current expenses.....	22,107 95
Total.....	$41,395 06

From the foregoing we find there has been expended to date on building, land, and ground, as follows:—

During the term of 1889 and 1890.....	$47,300 00
During the term of 1891 and 1892.....	19,287 11

Total.....	$66,587 11
------------	-------------

The institution was opened in November, 1891, and ninety (90) boys have been received to date of this report, the present number of inmates being sixty-nine. Of the ninety boys committed, forty per cent are under the age of thirteen years. Just one half of them were born in Oregon; the remaining forty-five (45) are from twenty-four states and territories, France, Germany, and Scotland. Nearly forty-three per cent are children of intemperate fathers or mothers.

We have examined the books, checks, vouchers, and the entire system of accounts kept by the superintendent of the institution, and find them kept in a neat, thorough, and business-like manner. The system of keeping accounts was such that there were no difficulty in making our investigation thorough and complete, each expenditure being checked and verified by its proper voucher on file in the office of the secretary of state.

APPROPRIATIONS FOR THE SCHOOL.

The state board of trustees having charge of the school have made the following recommendations, which we most heartily approve and deem necessary, as follows:—

Additional school buildings.....	$19,000 00
Work-shops.....	11,000 00
Dormitories.....	13,000 00
Laundry rooms.....	4,500 00
Bakery.....	3,000 00
Engine rooms.....	5,500 00

Full equipment and furnishing of all of the above-----	$18,000 00

CURRENT EXPENSES.

Current expenses of the school for the next two years--$36,000 00

STATE INSTITUTE FOR THE BLIND.

We have visited the institute for the blind, and have been gratified and instructed in observing the facility with which children who have lost their eyesight bring to their aid the active energies and quick perceptions of youth in acquiring knowledge. The skill and spirit manifested by these children, who, under the supervision of kind and devoted teachers, are striving to secure an education to meet the stern duties of life, must be seen to be appreciated.

The great difficulties to be overcome in a school of this kind, the patience required in the instruction of the children, because of their great physical infirmities, cannot be readily understood except by those made familiar with the work as instructors.

During our visit we found the school well organized, the pupils under a wholesome discipline, and in their personal appearance healthy, neat, cleanly, and happy.

The work of instructing the blind is a most difficult task. It is a slow process, and it should be remembered that instruction given in such English branches as geography, grammar, history, etc., is mostly oral, and therefore requires time. Having forever lost one of the chief aids in acquiring knowledge, they are shut out from all the ordinary means of mental and physical training. Again, their great physical infirmity begets an extreme diffidence and sensitiveness, which can only be overcome by the careful and attentive teacher. Again, the blind pupil leaves his home and parents to enter the school with a trembling uncertainty of receiving that care and attention which he has always received from indulgent friends. From these and other considerations it will be seen that there is no class of persons so dependent in life as the blind.

Generous provision has been made for this unfortunate class in almost every state in the union. This is a fact worthy of consideration, and is a tribute to the broad philanthropy of the American people. The work which this state has undertaken of establishing a school for the education of the blind is deserving of the support and commendation of all good citizens.

The pupils make a showing in the industrial department that is quite encouraging. During the last two years they have taken up hammock-making as a venture, and as proceeds of their work, the sale of hammocks has nearly reimbursed them for all outlays for stock, and with forty or more hammocks remaining on hand, the property of the school. Aside from this, it has given them an opportunity to familiarize themselves with one line of handicraft, which is a step in the direction of preparing themselves for the strife for existence when they leave the fostering care of the institution. It is evident from the results shown that this feature of the school should be fostered and encouraged with all the means at our command.

As regards the expense of the institution compared with those in older and more popular states, we find great cause of gratification. As shown in the superintendent's report for the biennial term just ended, the cost per pupil has been less than $200 per annum. Kentucky, whose blind school is one of the most economically administered, pays per pupil an annual sum of $250. The number enrolled in the school during the past two years is twenty-nine, of whom twenty still remain. The average attendance has increased one hundred per cent over the previous biennial term.

We have carefully examined the books, accounts, and vouchers of the superintendent of the institute, and find them neatly kept and systematically and mathematically correct. With a proper certified voucher on file to correspond with each entry as it appears in its proper place in the account books, there is no trouble in tracing every item.

The state board of trustees having charge of the school have made the following recommendations for appropriations, which we heartily approve and deem necessary, as follows:—

For new buildings.....	$ 8,500 00
Additional ground.....	2,000 00
Improvements on present buildings.....	1,000 00
Apparatus and industrial department.....	500 00
Total.....	$12,000 00

CURRENT EXPENSES.

Current expenses of school for next two years.....$12,000 00

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

All the books and accounts in the department of public instruction have been examined and found correct.

Special mention is here made of the very excellent and complete series of record books, registers, and blanks prepared by the state superintendent of public instruction for the use of our public schools.

The following record books, registers, blanks, and forms have been prepared, printed, and issued to all of the counties and school districts in this state by the state superintendent as required by the school laws, viz.:—

1. Teacher's register and record book.
2. District clerks' record book.
3. County superintendents' record book.
4. County superintendents' hand book of records.
5. Teachers' certificate book.
6. County superintendents' receipt books.
7. County treasurers' receipt books.
8. Clerks' blank reports.
9. Teachers' blank reports.
10. Superintendents' blank reports.
11. School census reports.

This series of records and blanks has done much to regulate and methodize the work of our school districts in all parts of the state.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Special attention is directed to the practical suggestions made by the superintendent in his biennial report to this legislature.

These recommendations are found on pages 183, 184, 185, 207, 208, 209, 211, and 212 of the present report, and if incorporated in our present school laws would prove of great advantage in promoting our public school service.

Very respectfully,

C. B. CROSNO,

Chairman senate committee on education.

O. C. BROWN,

Chairman house committee on education.

On motion of Mr. Crosno, 250 copies of this report was ordered printed.

Mr. Bancroft, chairman of the committee on military affairs, submitted the following report:—

Mr. President:

Your committee on military affairs, to whom was referred house bill No. 303, beg leave to report that we have had the same under consideration, and respectfully report it back to the senate with the recommendation that it do pass.

F. A. BANCROFT,
Chairman.

House bill No. 303 was ordered to third reading.

Mr. Maxwell, chairman of the special committee appointed under senate concurrent resolution No. 2, submitted the following report:—

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 16, 1893. }

Mr. President:

Your committee, appointed under senate concurrent resolution No. 2 to investigate the manner in which the printing for the state has been done during the past two years, beg leave to submit their report.

The above resolution created the senate and house standing committees on printing a joint committee, and empowered the same to employ such expert and additional assistance necessary to measure and report the amount of printing done for the departments of state during the past two years.

At a meeting of the joint committee, held in the office of the state printer on January 16th, on motion Hon. J. W. Maxwell, chairman of the senate committee on printing, was elected chairman of the joint committee; and the chairman of the joint committee and the chairman of the house committee on printing were required to select the necessary expert assistance; whereupon Mr. Geo. Hibbert of Clatsop county and Mr. W. F. Osburn of Portland were selected. The selection of these gentlemen has proven to be a most excellent one, for in the obtainment of the services of the former your committee has had the benefit of his experience as expert of previous committees appointed to investigate the state printing; and in the case of the latter, owing to his being the unanimous choice of the union printers of this section on account of his high professional standing and experience, we believe that the legislature was fortunate in obtaining his consent to act. These gentlemen have conducted the examination with careful scrutiny.

We find that the amount of printing done during the past two years is greatly in excess of any previous biennial term. This is accounted for by the natural increase of business in all of the departments and sub-departments consequent upon the steady growth of the state. Moreover, previous legislatures have required the publication of special editions of various documents, and have also created new boards and commissions—all of which necessarily augment the work of the printing department. The Australian ballot law, enacted last session, necessitated a large amount of new printing, which is paid for out of the printing fund.

The state printer, during the past two years, has added to his already large plant expensive and improved machinery, besides supplementing his composing-room with a considerable amount of costly type and other materials, thus enabling him, with the best skilled workmen obtainable, to do all the printing for the state in a most creditable and satisfactory manner.

We find that the state printer pays the best wages of any proprietor in the northwest for like services in the printing business, and that he employs no printer who is not the possessor of an international typographical union card. This we desire to commend in the highest terms.

Mr. Baker informs us that he has performed no printing other than that done for the state, thereby not competing with outside firms. This we commend as very fair, for the reason that he is permitted by law to enjoy without cost to him many privileges which other printers do not,—in the matter of rooms, lights, water and fuel, besides other conveniences accorded other state officials of the capitol.

The law requires the governor to appoint a state printing expert to measure all the work done by the state printer, and we find that the prices allowed by him have been fair and just. His system of computing the composition and press work shows the excellence of his judgment and his desire to render unto the state printer just what the law entitles him and no more. The work of the committee experts has been greatly facilitated by reason of the state expert's figures appearing on the face of each and every job of work measured. This we commend most heartily. The law fixing the compensation of the state printer has been faithfully executed by the state expert, and with the exception of a slight difference here and there, his figures and those of the committee experts agree.

We most heartily commend his excellency, Governor Pennoyer, for his appointment of Capt. John O'Brien to the position of state printing expert, for, as stated above, he has conducted the duties of his important and responsible office in a manner creditable to the governor, whose duty it is under the constitution to see that the laws are strictly enforced, to himself, whose high standing in his party made him the associate of the governor on the democratic state ticket in 1890,—he being the nominee of that party and the labor union party that year for the office of state printer,—to his immediate constituency, the organized laboring men of the state, and to the entire people of the state. We are sorry that the compensation provided by law for the state printing expert is so small. Four dollars a day is too small pay for the services of a practical printer qualified in all respects to measure and otherwise pass upon the work done by the state printer, and we recommend that the law at the earliest possible moment be amended in this respect so as to make his compensation ten dollars a day for the time actually spent in the performance of his duties; and until an amendment is enacted fixing some sum other than that now provided by law, we recommend that the secretary of state, as auditor of public accounts, audit and allow the present state expert the above amount for his services per diem.

The paper necessary for the public printing and the binding is paid for out of the printing fund, and the purchase of unusually large supplies of paper has been rendered necessary by reason of the increased size of the several reports, and of the laws and journals, and the additional reports of the commissions and offices created by recent legislation.

The experts of our committee call our attention to the fact that the state printer in printing many of the biennial reports and other work had occasion to use smaller type than the kind prescribed by law, having done so for the purpose of expediting the publication of the respective reports, thereby saving much valuable time to the legislature. We approve of his action in this matter.

The law requires the state printer to keep an account of all the paper used by him in doing the public printing, and we find that he has done so in a systematic manner; also that he has receipted to the secretary of state for all paper purchased by him.

The joint committee appointed by the last legislature to investigate the manner in which the public printing has been done during the years 1889 and 1890, in its report recommend to the legislature "that the law be so amended as to provide for the purchase of all paper required for the public printing by the state printer, whose experience and vocation are such that the state should receive the benefit thereof"; also that the binding for the state should be placed in his hands. We desire to renew the above recommendations. In this connection, we desire to include in this recommendation what the secretary of state has to say on this subject in his biennial report to this legislature. (See page 23, caption "Public binding; purchase of paper for the public printing.")

"Under existing law, the secretary of state is required to make contracts for the public binding, and to purchase paper for the use of the state printer. The public printing being done at the state capitol, it has been, in most cases, impracticable to have the binding done elsewhere, although, for reasons hereinafter stated, the prices paid at Salem for such work have exceeded the prices usually charged for similar work in cities where there has been more competition. The bindery at Salem, which has for many years performed this work, has not until recently been equipped with modern machinery. The labor cost of the work has, therefore, been so great that the proprietor could not afford to compete with binderies provided with better equipment. The work, however, has been excellent, and the prices not excessive considering the actual cost to the proprietor. This bindery was recently sold to the Capital City Bindery of Salem, with the managers of which, on condition that their bindery should be equipped with modern machinery for the purpose of doing the state work, I agreed to let the contract for the public binding for the next biennial term. Such contract is to be let with the understanding that there shall be a reduction of at least 20 per cent on the binding of ordinary book work, and a still larger reduction for folding, stitching, ruling, and other work of that kind. The company has already purchased and put in operation modern machinery, and is prepared to do the state work much more promptly than has hitherto been possible. In addition to the saving in time that will thus be effected, it will be seen from the terms of the contract that we may expect a very considerable saving of money on the cost of the public binding.

"I respectfully recommend that the law be so amended as to authorize the state printer to purchase the paper for the public printing. The transaction of such business is not necessarily, nor is it naturally connected with the duties of the secretary of state, while by reason of his profession the state printer is in every way qualified to perform that duty efficiently. I beg leave to quote the report of the joint committee on public printing of the legislative assembly of 1891 respecting this matter:

“The law also requires the secretary of state to purchase all the paper required for public printing. This we deem a very unnecessary and inconvenient law, for the reason that the handling of the paper should be confined solely to the printing department, and we recommend that the law be so amended as to provide for the purchase of all paper required for public printing by the state printer, whose experience and vocation are such that the state should receive the benefit thereof. We find, however, that the secretary of state has used excellent and commendable judgment in the purchase of paper for the public printing, and has secured the lowest figures possible by receiving competitive bids and awarding the same in the most advantageous manner to the state, and in most cases has received the aid and judgment of the state printer in passing upon the paper and prices allowed.

“The binding for the state is required to be done by the secretary of state. The law in this respect should be changed, requiring the state printer to perform this work; but owing to the impracticability of introducing a bill to this effect at this late day of the session, we recommend that the secretary of state give the state printer the contract for doing the public binding.’ (See page 808, senate journal of 1891.)

“I cordially indorse the recommendation of said committee that the purchase of the paper for the public printing and the contracting for the public binding should be placed, by law, exclusively in the control of the state printer.”

We desire to commend the secretary of state for his excellent judgment in securing the contract with the Capital City Bindery, whose facilities for doing the work in a proper and expeditious manner are far in advance of any bindery ever before established and run in the capital. But there is the matter of wages paid to those employed in the bindery that we desire to speak of. It comes to us that the hands employed therein are being paid scarcely enough to sustain life. This we condemn, and at the same time recommend to the secretary of state that he exert every reasonable endeavor to cause the proprietors of the bindery to pay the employés therein a fair compensation for their services.

Owing to the excellent services rendered your committee in the discharge of its duty by the experts of the joint committee, Messrs. George Hibbert and W. F. Osburn, we recommend that they receive the same compensation as was paid last session for the same service.

In conclusion, we desire to direct your attention to the report of the committee experts, which gives a more detailed account of the transactions of the office.

Respectfully submitted.

J. W. MAXWELL,
Chairman senate committee on printing.
C. H. DUNCAN,
Chairman house committee on printing.
J. W. MAXWELL,
Chairman joint committee on printing.
J. H. UPTON.

REPORT OF EXPERTS.

To Messrs. Maxwell, McGinn, and Raley, on part of the senate, and Messrs. Duncan, Gowan, and Upton, on the part of the house, joint committee to investigate the manner in which the public printing has been done during the past two years—GENTLEMEN: Herewith we submit our report to you as experts to measure and examine the work performed by the state printer during the past two years.

All the work measured by the state expert was found in convenient order and arrangement for re-measurement and examination. The bills submitted to the secretary of state were found to correspond exactly with all the sample of work performed, in amount of work done, measurements, and prices allowed therefor. All the work has been measured in the manner prescribed by statute, and the prices allowed are in strict accordance with the rates established by law.

The work of all descriptions turned out by the state printer is such as reflects great credit on the experienced and finished workman. It shows that much care has been taken to have the work conform to the most progressive methods, in taste, execution, and accuracy. Compared with the state work done elsewhere it makes an admirable showing.

The state expert, Capt. John O'Brien, who measured the printing done during the past two years, is a man who has shown scrupulous attention and precision in his measurements, adhering strictly to the provisions of law, where they were clearly defined, and employing accepted methods of union printers in all cases that were not governed by law.

The cost of printing during the past two years for the several departments, including deficiencies, is as follows: For the legislative department, $10,391.89; judicial department, $177.32; executive department, which includes the offices of governor, secretary of state, treasurer, superintendent of public instruction, land department, agricultural boards, and all other departments of state, $32,659.83; session laws, $1,919.08; school laws, $704.43; election laws, $388.98; road laws, $121.52; insurance laws, $26.48; senate journal, $1,099.79; house journal, $1,228.72.

GEORGE HIBBERT,
W. F. OSBURN,
Experts.

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 17, 1893. }

Mr. President:

We, your committee appointed under senate concurrent resolution No. 3 to examine the books and accounts of the secretary of state, beg leave to report that we met on the seventeenth day of January, 1893, and employed three competent clerks and accountants to perform the clerical work. They have examined each account and have carefully compared the warrant stub books, abstract books, sub-fund books, ledgers, vouchers, receipts, and other papers, and have made separate balances of each to test the accuracy of each, and after making searching tests report that the balances in each case were found to be correct. We find the records of the secretary's office skillfully kept and his clerical force competent. We notice an improved arrangement of the sub-fund books, which has greatly decreased our labor in checking up the different accounts. We find a marked increase in the business of this office within the last two years. There were 6,218 warrants drawn, amounting to $1,278,694.04, which required 59,185 entries, while in the two years immediately preceding there were 4,822 warrants drawn, requiring 43,125 entries. We find that the secretary has kept his office open after office hours, thereby greatly facilitating the transaction of the public business. We have examined the funds which have been under the direct supervision of the secretary of state and note that especial care seems to have been exercised in their expenditure.

In conclusion, we find that the office is properly kept and that the secretary is a careful, honest, prudent, economical, and efficient officer.

Respectfully submitted.

HENRY BLACKMAN,
JASPER WILKINS,
GEO. T. MYERS,

P. P. GATES,

By unanimous consent, Mr. Raley introduced senate joint resolution No. 5 [?].

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 5.

Whereas the senate standing committee on mines and mining submitted to this legislature a report treating upon the mineralogy of this state, said report being replete with reliable data touching upon the mineral resources of our state; and whereas many an urgent inquiry has been received from abroad asking for information touching upon our mineral resources in that regard; and whereas nothing of an authentic and reliable character has ever been published setting forth the extent of the present interests and investments and the future possibilities in mining in Oregon; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon, That the secretary of state be and is hereby authorized and directed to cause to be printed another edition of the said report for the purpose of distribution at the world's fair and elsewhere, as in his judgment he may deem most practicable, the said edition not to exceed over 25,000 copies in number.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, }
SALEM, Oregon, }
February 17, 1893. }

Mr. President:

I am directed by the speaker to inform you that the house has passed senate bill No. 206.

And the same is herewith returned to you for enrollment.

D. C. SHERMAN,
Chief clerk.

Senate bill No. 206 was ordered enrolled.

Mr. Cross, chairman of the special committee appointed under house concurrent resolution No. 3, submitted the following report:—

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER, }
SALEM, Oregon, }
February 17, 1893. }

Mr. President:

We, your committee appointed under house concurrent resolution No. 3 to visit the public works in the state, beg leave to report that on the twentieth day of January, 1893, we visited the jetty at the mouth of the Columbia river, which was found in an advanced stage of construction, and so near completion that it is largely doing the work expected and required of it, there being now practically no bar to impede free navigation, as late official measurements show twenty-nine feet of water at low tide on the bar. There remains but one season's work to complete the jetty as contemplated, and this has been provided for by adequate appropriation. The total cost of this work will not exceed $1,862,000.

THE PILOT SCHOONER.

We also examined carefully the pilot schooner owned by the state, and found it in a deplorable condition so far as comfort, convenience, safety, and sea-going qualities are concerned. Its draught is but six and one half feet, which permits it to be driven at the mercy of wind and wave. On account of its light draught it is frequently driven from its station during storms, when pilots are most needed at the entrance to the harbor by vessels desiring to enter.

THE CASCADE LOCKS.

On the twenty-first day of January your committee made a thorough inspection of the locks under construction at the cascades of the Columbia. While much work has been done and a great deal of money has been expended, much has been done at a great disadvantage, and a considerable portion of the several appropriations has been wasted in repairing the ravages of the river in its annual rises. Under the system at last adopted by congress, which has permitted a contract to be entered into for their completion at an early day, we hope that the people of this state are at last to reap the benefits of their use, which a wise policy should have provided long ago. The government plant has been turned over to the contractors, who are now busy gathering material to push the work of construction as soon as the season will permit.

THE PORTAGE RAILWAY.

The portage railway constructed at the cascade locks under an act of the last legislature is five eighths of a mile long. Besides its track the state has eleven flat cars, four box cars, one caboose, one engine, a warehouse, and a floating dock and wareroom. In connection with the boats plying on the river, it seems to be proving eminently satisfactory to the shippers interested. The dock at the upper wharf has been damaged by boats jaming against it. This should be repaired and strengthened, so as not to imperil the safety of the dock and track.

THE JETTIES AT YAQUINA.

On the fourth day of February, 1893, your committee visited the jetties at the entrance to Yaquina bay, which are now nearing completion so far as present plans contemplate. The channel, or channels, were three in number when this work was begun, very tortuous, and afforded but seven feet of water at mean low tide. To remedy this two jetties are being constructed on the north and south sides of the entrance to the harbor. These lack but a short distance of completion, so far as length is concerned, but require considerable rock filling to bring the jetties up to the height intended and required. The work already done has given a single channel fourteen feet deep at mean low tide, and the appropriation available is sufficient, in our judgment, to complete the work as far as it should be done till time has been given to demonstrate the ultimate result that may be accomplished. As the tidal area is limited to less than five square miles, it is uncertain to what extent this reservoir will afford water to scour the bar. In our judgment the storage area of the bay ought not to be reduced. We therefore recommend that congress be memorialized to appoint a commission to establish harbor lines.

Respectfully submitted.

H. E. CROSS,
R. M. VEATCH,
S. A. DURHAM,
W. C. ELMORE,
B. F. NICHOLS,
Committee.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE.

Mr. President :

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 32.

Whereas owing to storms and severe weather the joint committee appointed by the house and senate, under house concurrent resolution No. 18, to examine and investigate the matters pertaining to the construction and cost of the state portage railroad around the cascades of the Columbia river, etc., have been prevented from making an examination of said portage road or investigating the matters referred to in said concurrent resolution; and whereas grave charges have been made concerning the manner in which said portage road was constructed and the moneys appropriated therefor by the state expended, and the public interest requires that said matters be investigated; therefore, be it

Resolved by the House, the Senate concurring, That the committee of five, consisting of three members from the house and two members of the senate, appointed under and by virtue of said house concurrent resolution No. 18, be and they hereby are continued and authorized, empowered, and directed to examine, investigate, and inquire into all matters pertaining to the construction, cost, and operation of the said portage railroad around the cascades of the Columbia river, and the wharves, station-house, terminal facilities, and approaches connected therewith, including the cost of purchasing and acquiring right of way for said portage railroad, and the cost of running, operating, and maintaining said road and the property used in connection therewith, and the manner in which the moneys appropriated by the state for the construction of said road were expended, and all other matters connected with said portage railroad; and be it further

Resolved, That said committee shall meet and sit at such times and places after the adjournment of this legislature as they or a majority of them shall deem expedient, and that they or a majority of them shall have power to take testimony regarding said matters to be investigated, and to compel the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of all books, papers, contracts, agreements, documents, and vouchers relating to matters under investigation, and to administer oaths and to employ such clerical help as in their judgment may be necessary; and be it further

Resolved, That said committee make a report of its findings concerning said matters to be investigated and file the same with the secretary of state, to be laid before the next legislative assembly. Said committee shall be paid their actual expenses incurred in making such investigation, and during the time actually so employed shall be paid the same per diem as members of the legislative assembly; and the secretary of state shall draw warrants in payment of the same and for the clerical labor employed and necessary witness fees upon the general fund.

The board of portage railroad commissioners submitted the following report:—

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February —, 1893. }

To the Honorable the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon:
We, the undersigned, constituting the board of portage commissioners of the state of Oregon, respectfully submit the following report of the transactions of said board under the act approved February 16, 1891, authorizing the said board to construct, operate, and maintain portage railways on the Columbia river:—

On the fifteenth day of May, 1891, the board of portage commissioners formally organized by the election of Governor Sylvester Pennoyer as chairman; Philip Metschan, treasurer; and Samuel L. Lovell, secretary of said board. At the same meeting the said Samuel L. Lovell was also appointed the engineer, and C. J. Farley the superintendent of construction of the portage railway to be constructed at the cascades of the Columbia river.

In response to an inquiry sent by request of the board by the secretary of state, asking permission to construct said road over a portion of government grounds near cascade locks, Major Thomas Handbury, of the United States corps of engineers, under date of May 14, 1891, suggested that, inasmuch as the tracks on the government grounds were all of three-foot gauge, it would be necessary for the gauge of the state portage railway to conform to the government roads already on the ground. In accordance with such suggestion, the board decided that the track of the state portage railway should be constructed with a gauge of three feet.

On May 30, 1891, the board selected the line on which the portage railway should be built, and ordered that work be begun upon such construction as soon as practicable. Thereafter the work of construction was diligently prosecuted, and on September 23, 1891, the road, though not fully completed, was sufficiently equipped to begin the work of transferring freight and passengers. Since that time the road has been continuously operated whenever business was offered by shippers or by transportation lines, though traffic has been suspended on account of high water and of freezing weather on the Columbia river for several weeks at a time during said period.

The portage railway, including the upper and lower inclines, and a wharf boat which is kept at the lower incline, has been constructed within the appropriation made for such purpose by the act aforesaid.

By order of the board a suit was begun and prosecuted to a verdict for the condemnation of about $8\frac{1}{4}$ acres of land of the Atwell donation land claim, such land being deemed necessary for the uses of the portage railway, including necessary right of way for a pipe line, by means of which the state has a water supply under its own control. In the said suit the jury rendered a verdict appraising the value of such land at \$4,000, which sum the board deemed excessive, and therefore ordered an appeal from the verdict. On further consideration, however, it seemed evident that it would be impossible to obtain a verdict fixing a lower sum, whereupon the board agreed with M. J. Atwell to accept her deed conveying said property to the state of Oregon, and to issue therefor its approved voucher for the sum of \$4,000, to bear interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum. There is due upon said land, including interest and unpaid witness fees in the condemnation suit, the sum of \$3,811.80, for which we recommend an appropriation by your honorable body.

The table herewith printed shows the total earnings of the portage railway from September 23, 1891, to and including the thirtieth day of November, 1892. The said total does not include the sum of $319.01 rebate on freight, which sum was paid into the fund arising from traffic earnings and will appear in the report of the treasurer of the board as a part of what is known as the operating fund.

The report of the treasurer of the board dated December 16, 1892, which is printed herewith, indicates a balance in the operating fund at that date of $837.62. It is probable that necessary repairs and labor on the track and rolling stock, and the wages of employes during the present suspension of traffic, will consume the greater portion of the fund now on hand.

Tables containing statements of all freights and passengers transported over the portage railway, of the earnings of said road and of authorized disbursements thereof, are hereto attached and made a part of this report. The earnings for the year 1892 indicate an increasing traffic.

This board acknowledges many courtesies, valuable advice, and kind assistance from Major Thos. H. Handbury and his subordinate officers in all matters pertaining to the work at the cascades.

On November 19, 1891, Mr. J. N. Ryan was appointed superintendent of traffic to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of G. J. Farley. On October 25, 1892, Mr. Ryan tendered his resignation, asking that it take effect November 15, 1892, but the board accepted the same to take effect January 1, 1893. Mr. C. C. Hobart of The Dalles, was duly elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Ryan, and will take charge of the portage railway as superintendent thereof January 1, 1893.

CONCLUSION.

This report was made as of date, the seventeenth of December, 1892, but has been unavoidably deferred, owing to the illness of the secretary of the board, whose verification of certain tables herein printed was necessary before presentation of this report.

We have the honor to be, very respectfully,

Your obedient servants,

SYLVESTER PENNOYER,
Governor,
GEO. W. McBRIDE,
Secretary of State,
PHIL. METSCHAN,
State Treasurer,
Board of Portage Commissioners.

Mr. Maxwell, chairman of the committee appointed under senate concurrent resolution No. 8 to examine the books of the military board, submitted the following report:—

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February —, 1893. }

Mr. President:

Your committee, appointed under senate concurrent resolution No. 8 to examine the books of the military board, beg leave to report that we have employed suitable clerks and pursued our investigations as carefully as the time allowed would permit.

We find no vouchers on file in the office of the adjutant-general, who is the secretary of the board, the only book kept being the minutes of the meetings of the military board. This book shows the accounts approved by the board. Your committee has, therefore, examined the vouchers on file with the secretary of state, and charged the same to the proper accounts, opening a complete set of books for that purpose. We find the total amount approved by the military board, as shown by the minutes of the meetings of the said board,—

From January 1, 1891, to December 31, 1892, to be----- $63,026 62

Of this amount there has been paid by warrants of the secretary of state----- $59,566 18

There remain unpaid accounts approved by the military board to the amount of_ 3,460 44

Total amount approved by military board----- $63,026 62 $63,026 62

This amount allowed was for the following balance sheet, showing the amount approved by the military board and paid by warrants of the secretary of state drawn on the military fund and amount approved by military board and unpaid for want of funds, from January 1, 1891, to December 31, 1892:—

Encampment and transportation-----	$11,407 90
Rents-----	39,659 70
Elections-----	342 15
Military board-----	1,616 72
Printing-----	2,733 68
Inspection-----	670 10
Sundries-----	1,491 62
Uniforms and repairs-----	2,112 00
Adjutant-general-----	2,992 75
To amount paid by warrant of the secretary of state drawn on the military fund-----		$59,566 18
To amount approved by military board and unpaid-----		3,460 44
	$63,026 62	$63,026 62

We find there have been allowed by the military board at the meeting held January 9, 1893, accounts amounting to $3,056.49, which are for expenses incurred for the quarter ending December 31, 1892, but as same occurred in a similar manner at the board meeting of January 13, 1891, we have not included the same in this report, believing it properly belongs to the report of 1893.

The report of the adjutant-general for 1891 and 1892 shows amounts as follows:—

Amount audited and allowed by the state military board during the year ending December 31, 1891-----	$56,955 98
Audited and allowed by the state military board during the year ending December 31, 1892-----	13,528 80	$70,484 78
	$70,484 78	$70,484 78
Paid by warrants of the secretary of state during the year ending December 31, 1891-----	$47,901 57
Paid by warrants of the secretary of state during the year ending December 31, 1892-----	17,665 56
Amount allowed by the state military board and yet unpaid-----	4,917 65	$70,484 78
	$70,484 78

We find the military fund has been economically expended. The expenses of the encampment, although very large, were not extravagant, the transportation of those troops from whom data could be obtained being less than two cents per mile and rations but 53 cents per day. The price paid for articles we consider very low.

Your committee recommend that hereafter a suitable set of books be kept in the adjutant-general's office, and duplicate vouchers filed, so that a complete record of the monetary transactions of the board may be at hand in the office of their secretary.

The brigade commander is an earnest worker in the cause of the guard, and we find that all the officers from the highest to the lowest are rendering earnest and efficient service to the state and without compensation, except in the case of the adjutant-general, who receives a fixed salary.

Chairman joint committee.
JOHN GILL,
Chairman house committee.

The following biennial report of the Oregon domestic animal commission was read:—

REPORT.

STATE CAPITOL,
SALEM, Oregon,
February 16, 1893. }

To the Honorable the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon—
GENTLEMEN: We have the honor to submit the following report of the doings of the Oregon domestic animal commission (established under an act of the legislative assembly entitled "An act to prevent the spread of contagious animal diseases," approved February 25, 1889,) for the years 1891 and 1892:

The said commission consists of the governor, Sylvester Pennoyer; the secretary of state, Geo. W. McBride; and the president of the state board of agriculture, J. T. Apperson. The organization of the commission remains the same as at the date of our last report, the governor acting as chairman, and the secretary of state as secretary of the commission. James Withycombe, of Washington county, has been reappointed veterinary surgeon for the state, with the title of state veterinarian. Under the act of 1891, the salary of the state veterinarian was fixed at $1,500 a year and his necessary traveling expenses.

During the two years there were found to be diseased 141 horses, of which number 131 were killed by order of the commission; four of these was condemned as of no value; one was an estray animal. The appraised value of the remaining 126 horses has been paid, according to law. Two horses condemned as diseased have disappeared, and we have no report of them at present. Eight diseased horses were ordered under quarantine, to be kept isolated from all other animals. During the biennial term, 12 cows and 88 hogs were killed by order of the commission. There was paid on account of all the animals killed in pursuance of the orders of the commission, total sums as follows:

For horses-----	$2,382 00
For hogs-----	108 00
For cattle-----	16 00

After the payment of all expenses reported up to December 31, 1892, there remained an unexpended balance in the appropriation of the last biennial term of $6,906.40. It is estimated that outstanding unpaid claims for services of inspectors and for other services will not exceed $900. We therefore recommend that the appropriation for the years 1893 and 1894 be reduced to $12,000, which sum we think will be sufficient to cover the expenses of said term unless there shall be some unusual spread of contagious or infectious diseases among animals. As in the preceding biennial term, with few exceptions, the diseased horses were affected with chronic nasal gleet. The diseased cows were affected with tuberculosis. The state veterinarian reports "that tuberculosis is the most dangerous malady that confronts the commission in dealing with the contagious diseases of our domestic animals. The disease is not only contagious among our domestic animals, but the milk and flesh of animals suffering from tubercular disease is positively infectious to human beings, especially milk, which is an article of food that is rarely cooked before being consumed." The commission will sustain the state veterinarian in his skillful and energetic attempts to discover and stamp out this most dangerous infectious disease. The small number of cows found to be affected with it during the past biennial term and the vigilance of the state veterinarian justify us in the gratifying belief that the spread of the disease has been checked.

In June, 1891, over 70 head of swine died of disease in Union county before the herd was examined. The disease was introduced by hogs that were imported from the eastern states and was supposed to be genuine hog cholera. Examination proved that the disease was only a malignant type of influenza, caused by feeding the swine impure swill. The entire herd was ordered killed. In July, 1891, a malignant type of influenza attacked small herds of swine in Union county, of which herds a large percentage died. The board promptly ordered destruction of exposed animals, and the spread of the disease was promptly and effectually checked.

A full record of the proceedings of the commission has been kept by the secretary, who has also kept, in a stock-book prepared for that purpose, a description of each animal reported as dangerously diseased, and of the orders and acts of the commission and its employes respecting such animal. The reports of the state veterinarian and of the county stock inspectors, and all other persons employed by the commission, are kept on file in the office of the secretary of state, and the commission respectfully invites your examination of all such records and papers, which are hereby referred to as a part of this report.

We have the honor to be, very respectfully,

Your obedient servants,

SYLVESTER PENNOYER,
Governor,

GEO. W. McBRIDE,
Secretary of State,

J. T. APPERSON,
President State Board of Agriculture.

PROTEST.

SENATE CHAMBER,
SALEM, Oregon,
February —, 1893. }

Mr. President:

We, the undersigned senators, protest most earnestly against the signing of house bill No. 175 for the following reasons: That the said bill was, without authority given by the senate, taken out of its place at or near the bottom of a large number of meritorious bills and placed at the top by some person or persons without authority and contrary to the rules of the senate and all parliamentary usages, thereby crowding out many meritorious measures, and in fact committed a fraud upon the senate. That the vote upon the measure only showed sixteen senators voting on the passage of said measure, and they in the affirmative. That the president caused to be counted as voting "no" a number of senators that did not vote and a number that were out of the room at the time the vote was taken, to wit, Messrs. Huston, Vanderburg, Matlock, McAlister, Raley, and Smith, and had no opportunity to vote.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 33.

Resolved by the House, the Senate concurring, That the secretary of state be authorized to draw warrants on the state treasurer to be drawn from the general expense fund to pay costs in the investigation of charges preferred against G. S. Downing, superintendent of Oregon state penitentiary.

On motion of Mr. Raley, the senate concurred.

Mr. Weatherford submitted the following report:—

REPORT.

SENATE CHAMBER, }
 SALEM, Oregon,
 February 17, 1893. }

To the Honorable Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon:—We, the joint committee appointed to examine the books of the penitentiary and the mode of conducting the institution, have visited the premises and made a thorough examination of its books and the various departments of the prison. We find that the books are accurate, concise, and neat, and that the penitentiary is conducted on business principles, giving special attention to even the smaller details.

The contract with the Northwest Foundry Company requires payment to the state treasurer for convict labor each quarter, but we find that they have been paying only about once each year. There was due December 31, 1892, $20,170.75, and for the month of January, 1893, $735.28, making a total of $20,906.03; but should interest be required on deferred payments, and your committee believe that it should be, there would be due an additional sum of $5,644.87 interest. This would make the amount due from the Northwest Foundry Company to date $26,550.90, which according to contract should be immediately paid to the state treasurer by this company. We recommend that the state treasurer be instructed to collect the same.

We also, in accordance with resolution No. —, have thoroughly investigated the charges preferred against Superintendent Downing; have given every opportunity to the prosecution to substantiate the charges, summoning every witness that they have asked for, and we find that not a single charge has been substantiated.

We also find that the same charges have twice been before the grand jury of Marion county, and have been dismissed for want of evidence, the prosecuting attorney and the foreman of the grand jury each testifying before your committee that the charges were entirely groundless.

We recommend that these charges, together with the testimony, be placed on file in the secretary of state's office for future reference.

E. H. BELKNAP,

Chairman house committee.

Chairman senate committee.

J. K. WEATHERFORD,

Minority of committee.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 25.
